Cambria Freeman.

H. A. McPIKE, Editor and Publisher. "HE IS A FREEMAN WHOM THE TRUTH MAKES FREE, AND ALL ARE SLAVES BESIDE." Terms, $2 per year, in advance.

VOLUME XII. EBENSURG, PA., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1878. NUMBER 42.

SHERIFF'S SALES.

BY virtue of sundry writs of Vend. Expon., Alias Vend. Expon., Fi. Fa., 2d Pln. Fi. Fa. and Alias Legari Facias, issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Cambria county and to me directed, there will be exposed to public sale, at the Court House in Ebensburg, on Monday, December 2d, 1878,

At 1 O'CLOCK, P. M., the following real estate, to wit:

ALL the right, title and interest of J. W. Gray, of, in and to a piece or parcel of land situated in White township, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lands of Charles Ranstead and others, containing 5 acres, more or less, having thereon erected a two story plank house and frame stable, now in the occupancy of Mrs. Hollins. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of A. H. Fiske & Co.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of Leonard Hollis, of in and to a piece or lot of ground, situated in White township, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lands of Joseph Van Ormer, Charles Ranstead and Samuel Dean, containing one acre, all cleared. Also, all the right, title and interest of Leonard Hollis, of, in and to a piece or lot of ground situated in White township, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lands of Jacob Kunsman, Charles Ranstead, and Samuel Dean, containing one acre, unimproved. Also, all the right, title and interest of Leonard Hollis, of, in and to a piece or lot of ground situated in Chest Springs borough, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lot of E. & H. Nutter, ——street on the north and an alleyon the west and south, having thereon erected a one-and a half story frame house and two frame stables, in the occupancy of Leonard Hollis. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of Peter Urban, for use of John Wagner, now for use of Sarah E. Burns.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of Alexander Troxell, of, in and to a piece or parcel of land situated in White township, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lands of Wm. S. Smith, Samuel Akins, George Kuhn, and others, containing 90 acres, more or less, about 75 acres cleared, having thereon erected a two story frame house and log barn, now in the occupancy of Alexander Troxell. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of Peter Rosel, endorsee of Samuel Troxell, now for use of S. J. Pires.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of John J. Kuhn, of, in and to a piece or parcel of land situated in White township, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lands of Samuel W. Turner, John Wallace, and others, containing 75 acres, more or less, about 60 acres of which are cleared, having thereon erected a two story plank house and frame barn, now in the occupancy of John J. Kuhn. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of Samuel Troxell, now for use of S. J. Pires.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of Adam Leiden, of, in and to a piece or parcel of land situated in Chest township, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lands of George Crook, Simon Sosbourg and others, containing 50 acres, more or less, about 75 acres of which are cleared, having thereon erected a two story plank house weather boarded, a large bank barn, frame barn and other outbuildings, now in the occupancy of Daniel Leiden. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of P. S. Fisher and John Streum, trading as Fisher & Co.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of Abraham Kein, of, in and to a piece or parcel of land situated in Summerhill township, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lands of John R. Nagle, Samuel Farber, lands of the Beaver Mill Co., and others, containing 127 acres, more or less, about 35 acres cleared, having thereon erected a two story log house and log barn, now in the occupancy of Abraham Kein. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of Francis J. Baker and Apsloma Baker, administrators of Anthony Baker, deceased.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of John Crouse, of, in and to a lot of ground situated in Chest Springs borough, Cambria county, Pa., fronting on the south on Main street, on the north by an alley, on the west by lot of Stephen Conrad, and on the east by Charles Wivell, having thereon erected a large two story frame tavern stand and plank stable, now in the occupancy of John Crouse. Also, all the right, title and interest of John Crouse, of, in and to two lots of ground situated in Chest Springs borough, Cambria county, Pa., bounded on the north by an alley, on the south by —— street, on the east by Green's alley, and on the west by lot of John Wagner, having thereon erected a plank stable. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of Thomas R. Kerr & Co.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of Michael Kirsh, of, in and to a piece or parcel of land situated in Barr township, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lands of Joseph Lantzy, heirs of N. Hefferly, and Joseph Steinbeiger, containing 50 acres more or less, about 30 acres cleared, having thereon erected a plank house and bank barn, now in the occupancy of Michael Kirsh. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of Johnston & Scanlon.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of Thos. Gorman, of, in and to a piece or parcel of land situated in Allegheny township, Cambria county, Pa., bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a chestnut tree; thence west one hundred and sixty perches along Mary Brown's and Venus Lewis' land, thence north eighty-four and three fourth degrees, west four hundred and forty-eight perches to a post to Heird Whitehead's; thence north by Hortner's land north forty-six degrees, west six perches to a spruce, north twenty degrees, eight perches, along Ilsworth and Hortner's, to a spruce, thence south along John Knuckles' land eighty-two degrees, east three hundred and ninety-two perches to a beech; thence south seventy-five degrees, east one hundred and thirty perches to a sugar, thence by —— and Dilworth's land sixty-three and three fourth degrees, east two hundred and sixty-seven perches to the place of beginning—containing 463 acres and 58 perches, and the usual allowance and appurtenances, having thereon erected a steam saw mill. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of Henry Gitterman's.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of Peter Sweeny and wife, of, in and to a piece or lot of ground situated in Loretto borough, Cambria county, Pa., fronting on St. Mary street on the west, extending back to an alley on the east, having an alley on the north and lot of W. W. McAteer on the south, having thereon erected two story frame house and frame stable, now in the occupancy of Peter Sweeney. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of John E. Shields, surviving partner of the firm of P. H. Shields & Son.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of Wm. Brown, sr., of, in and to a piece or parcel of land situated in Washington township, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lands of Mrs. R. M. Lemon on the east, Andrew Eger on the north, Geo. M. Reade on the west, and Michael Bradley on the south, containing 9 acres, more or less, 5 cleared, having thereon erected a one-and-a-half story plank house and plank stable, now in the occupancy of said William Brown, sr. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of Christian Reich, for use of Isadore Lilly.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of John Spade, of, in and to a lot of ground situated in Summitville borough, Cambria county, Pa., fronting on the old Portage Railroad, and running back to an alley, adjoining lot of John Hiller on the north and school lot on the south, having thereon erected a large two story frame house and frame stable, now in the occupancy of John Spade. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of John M. Horlacher.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of David Trexler, of, in and to a piece or parcel of land situated in Gallitzin township, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lands of Bernard Farley Mary Bendon, H. Myers, and others, containing 100 acres, more or less, about 20 acres of which are cleared, having thereon erected a two-story frame house, board stable, grist mill and saw mill, in the occupancy of David Trexler. Also, all the right, title and interest of David Trexler, of, in and to a piece or parcel of land situated in Gallitzin township, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lands of John Kratzer, Joseph Trexler, and others, containing 83 acres, more or less, having thereon erected a two story frame house and log stable, now in the occupancy of George McCukes. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of John H. Hite, administrator J. K. Hite, dec'd.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of Joseph McDonald, of, in and to a piece or lot of ground situated in the west ward, Ebensburg borough, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lands of John Howell on the north, estate of John E. Roberts on the east, C. T. Roberts on the south and Caroline street on the west, containing one and one-half acres, more or less. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of E. Roberts & Son.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of John W. Rager and Martin Rager, of, in and to a piece or parcel of land situated in Jackson township, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lands of A. S. Rathbone, William Stewart, and William Byers, containing 70 acres, more or less, about 25 acres of which are cleared, having thereon erected 2 two story plank houses and a bank barn, now in the occupancy of Mrs. Rager and Martin Rager.—Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of Joseph S. Strayer, assignee of P. F. Shaffer.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of Robert P. Linton and E. H. Linton, executrix of P. L. Linton, dec'd, of, in and to a lot of ground situated in the East ward of Ebensburg, Cambria county, Pa., fronting on High street on the north, Centre street on the west, adjoining lot of Mrs. Rhey on the south and an alley on the east, having thereon erected a large part brick and part frame tavern stand and frame stables, now in the occupancy of T. H. Heist, and a two story frame house, now in the occupancy of L. H. Linton.—Also, a piece or parcel of land situated in Cambria township, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lands of heirs of Stephen Lloyd, dec'd, James G. Hasson, Mrs. Roberts, and others, containing 7 acres and 54 perches. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of James M'Kay.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of A. Craver, L. A. Craver, and John Lantzy, of, in and to a piece or parcel of land situated in Carroll township, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lands of Henry Kirkpatrick, George Snyder, Emanual Wentz, and others, containing 175 acres, more or less, about 90 acres of which are cleared, having thereon erected a one-and-a-half story frame house and bank barn, now in the occupancy of Simon Kline, and a one-and-a-half story house, now in the occupancy of ——. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of Peter McAleer, for use of John H. Hite, administrator of J. K. Hite, dec'd.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of George B. Richards, of, in and to a piece or parcel of land situated in White township, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lands of Geo. W. Bowman, Aaron Younkin, George Lamer, and others, containing 96 acres, more or less, about 40 acres cleared, having thereon erected a one-and-a-half story log house and frame barn, in the occupancy of Geo. B. Richards and a one-and-a-half story log house not occupied. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of Samuel F. George.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of James F. Skelly, of, in and to a piece or parcel of land situated in Summerhill township, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lands of Patrick M'Combie, Smay estate, Thomas McConnell, and others, containing 35 acres, more or less, about 10 acres cleared, having thereon erected a one-and a-half story plank house, now in the occupancy of James F. Skelly. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of John Gillespie.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of James Myers, of, in and to a lot of ground situated in the West ward of Ebensburg borough, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lot of Geo. M Reade on the east, an alley on the west, and Main street on the south, having thereon erected a two story frame house, now in the occupancy of Jas. Myers, and a store room in the occupancy of John Lloyd & Co. Also, all the right title and interest of James Myers, of, in and to a piece or parcel of land situated in Cambria township, Cambria county, adjoining lands of Wm. H. Seebler, Thomas Griffith, and Benjamin Lloyd, containing 120 acres, more or less, about 75 acres of which are cleared, having thereon erected a one and-a-half story frame house and bank barn, now in the occupancy of John Morgan. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of John B. Mitchell.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of Edward Mullen, John Mullen, Margaret Mullen and Peter Mullen, of, in and to a piece or parcel of land situated in Allegheny township, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lands of Silas Donahoe, George Delaney, William Pleister and Anthony Sill, containing 197 acres, more or less, having thereon erected a two story frame house and log barn, now in the occupancy of Edward Mullen. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of Mary Ann Bradley, executrix of the last will and testament of John Bradley, dec'd.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of Henry Miller, of, in and to a piece or parcel of land situated in Blacklick township, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lands of Emanual Stiles, Michael Stiles and others, containing 50 acres, more or less, about 20 acres of which are cleared, having thereon erected a two story frame house and log barn, now in the occupancy of Henry Miller.—Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of T. H. Cresswell & Son, for use of Hood, Bumbright & Co.

TERMS OF SALE.—One-third of the purchase money to be paid when the property is knocked down, and the remaining two-thirds before the confirmation of the Deed.

JOHN RYAN, Sheriff.

Sheriff's Office, Ebensburg, Nov. 4, 1878.

Assignee's Sale.

BY virtue of an order of the Orphans' Court of Cambria county, to me directed, I will expose to public sale, at the present residence of E. J. Mills, in Ebensburg borough, on Friday, November 29th, 1878,

At 2 o'CLOCK, P. M., the following described real estate, to wit:

No. 1.—All that certain MESSUAGE, being a HOUSE and LOT OF GROUND situate in the West ward of Ebensburg borough, bounded on the north by lot formerly of Rev. R. C. Christy, fronting on Julian street on the south by lot of E. J. Humphreys, and on the west by Julian street—said lot fronting 50 feet on Julian street and extending back 129 feet, having thereon erected a two story Frame Stable and necessary Outbuildings, with a good garden attached.

No. 2.—All that certain Piece or Parcel of land situate in the West ward of said borough of Ebensburg, bounded on the north by Lloyd street, on the east by West street, on the south by land of Robert Evans, and on the west by lot of Thos. Davis, Jackson.

TERMS OF SALE.—One-third of the purchase money to be paid on the confirmation of the sale or sales, and the remainder in two equal annual payments to be secured by the judgment bond or bonds of the purchaser or purchasers.

W. H. SECHLER,
Assignee of E. J. Mills.

Ebensburg, Nov. 1, 1878.-3t.

ORPHANS' COURT SALE.

BY virtue of an order issuing out of the Orphans' Court of Cambria county, I will expose to public sale on the premises, on Saturday, the 23d day of November, inst., at 2 o'clock, P. M., the following described real estate of which John J. Evans died seized, to wit:

A TRACT of LAND

situate in Cambria township, Cambria county, Pa., bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a rock on a branch of Blacklick creek; thence by land of Poland, Jenkins & Co., north 14 degrees, east 77 perches, to a post; thence by land of same, north 50 perches, to a post; thence through tract of which this is a part, west 114 perches, to a surface stump; thence thro' same, south 125 perches, to a post; thence by land of David M. Davis and John Morgan, east 96 perches, to the place of beginning—containing 80 Acres and 82 Perches, and allowance, about 20 Acres of which are cleared, having thereon a two story PLANK DWELLING HOUSE, PLANK STABLE, and all necessary outbuildings. There is also a good orchard on the premises.

TERMS.—One-third of the purchase money to be paid on the confirmation of the sale, and the balance in two equal annual payments, to be secured by the judgment bond of the purchaser.

JOHN F. TIBBOTT,
Administrator of John J. Evans, dec'd

ASSIGNEE'S SALE OF TIMBER LAND.

BY virtue of an order of the Court of Common Pleas of Cambria county, to me directed, I will offer at public sale, at Portage Station, in said county, on Tuesday, November 26th, 1878,

at 2 o'clock, p. m., the following described real estate, to wit:

All that certain TRACT OF LAND

situate in Washington township, in said county of Cambria, adjoining land warranted in the name of Richard ——ith, Charles Smith, Aaron ——onman, and King & Storm, containing FOUR HUNDRED AND THIRTY-THREE AND ONE-HALF ACRES; unimproved.

TERMS OF SALE.—One-half of the purchase money to be paid on the confirmation of the sale and the balance in one year thereafter, to be secured by the judgment bond and mortgage of the purchaser.

JOHN WAGNER,
Assignee of E. R. Dunegan.

Nov. 1, 1878.-3t.

AUDITOR'S NOTICE.—The undersigned Auditor, appointed by the Orphans' Court of Cambria county to report distribution of the fund in the hands of Jos. Criste, Executor of the last will and testament of Rachel Kline, dec'd, hereby gives notice that he will sit at his office in Ebensburg, on Tuesday, the 26th day of November, 1878, at 2 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of attending to the duties of said appointment. Those having claims upon said fund are requested to present them, or be debarred from any part of the same.

JNO. E. SCANLAN, Auditor.

Nov. 1, 1878.-3t.

T. W. DICK, ATTORNEY-AT LAW, Ebensburg, Pa. Office in front room of T. J. Lloyd's new building, Centre street. All manner of legal business attended to satisfactorily, and collections a specialty. [16-14.-tf.

Sheriff's Sales.

BY virtue of sundry writs of Vend. Expon., Fi. Fa. and Alias Fi. Fa., issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Cambria county and to me directed, there will be offered at public sale, at the Hotel of Conrad Raab, in Johnstown, on Saturday, November 30th, 1878,

At 2 O'CLOCK, P. M., the following real estate, to wit:

ALL the right, title and interest of Jeremiah Crowley and Catharine Crowley, of, in and to a lot of ground situate in East Conemaugh borough, Cambria county, Pa., fronting on the east on Main street, adjoining lands of Cambria Iron Co. on the north, Locust street on the south, and lot of P. Murray on the west, having thereon erected a two story frame house, now in the occupancy of Catharine Crowley. Also, all the right, title and interest of Jeremiah Crowley and Catharine Crowley, of, in and to a lot of ground situate in East Conemaugh borough, Cambria county, Pa., fronting on Locust street on the south, an alley on the east, and lot of —— Confer on the west, extending back to lands of Cambria Iron Company, having thereon erected a two story plank house, not now occupied. Also, all the right, title and interest of Jeremiah Crowley and Catharine Crowley, of, in and to a lot of ground situate in East Conemaugh borough, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lot of D. Humphrey on the west and G. McHugh on the east, extending back to Locust street, having thereon erected a two story plank house, now in the occupancy of Robert Curtley. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of J. S. Strayer, assignee of P. F. Shaffer.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of John Litz, of, in and to a lot of ground situate in the Sixth ward of Johnstown borough, Cambria county, Pa., fronting on Morris street, having Dibert street on one side, an alley on the other, and extending back to an alley, having thereon erected three two story plank houses and stable, now in the occupancy of John Litz, Henry D. Hite, and others. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of James Robb.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of Wesley Horner, of, in and to a piece or parcel of land situate in Taylor township, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lands of Elias Ogden, Ephraim Berkey, and William Shaffer, containing 32 acres, more or less, about 30 acres of which are cleared, having thereon erected a two-story plank house and plank barn, now in the occupancy of Wesley Horner. Also, all the right, title and interest of Wesley Horner, of, in and to a piece or parcel of land situate in Stonycreek township, Cambria county, Pa., adjoining lands of Jacob C. Horner on the west, Stony Creek or Feeder Dam on the south and lands of Richard Stutzman Jun. Estate on the east, containing 12 acres and 50 perches, having thereon erected a two-story plank house and stable. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of P. F. Shaffer.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of Lawrence Furlong, of, in and to a lot of ground situate in Franklin borough, Cambria county, Pa., fronting on the north on a street, having a street on the west, an alley on the south, and lot of Catharine Wilson on the east, having thereon erected a two story house and stable, now in the occupancy of Lawrence Furlong. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of Buchanan & Clark.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of Philip Gouchenour, of, in and to one and-a-half lots of ground situate in East Conemaugh borough, Cambria county, Pa., fronting on the west on Main street, adjoining lot of Geo. Parks on the north, an alley on the east and ——— back to an alley, having thereon erected a two story plank house, now in the occupancy of Charles Headrick. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of Joseph Heslop, for use of J. Zimmerman.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of Chas. P. Cobaugh and Rebella Oobaugh, of, in and to two (2) lots of ground situate in East Conemaugh borough, Cambria county, Pa., fronting on the west on Main street, adjoining lot of ——— on the north, and an alley on the south, and extending back to an alley, having thereon erected a two story plank house and plank stable, now in the occupancy of Charles P. Cobaugh. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of Joseph Heslop, for use of J. Zimmerman.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of Patrick Dougherty, of, in and to a lot of ground situate in the borough of Cambria, Cambria county, Pa., fronting on Ninth street 50 feet, adjoining Lot No. 87 on the east, Ninth street on the west, and running back 132 feet to an alley, being Lot No. 89 on McConnaughey's plan of Cambria borough. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of and for use of Mrs. Ellen Dougherty.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of Wm. Sanderson, of, in and to a lot of ground situate in East Conemaugh borough, Cambria county, Pa., fronting on the east on Main street, adjoining lot of William Snowden on the south and —— street on the north, and extending back to an alley, having thereon erected a two story plank house now in the occupancy of William Sanderson. Also, all the right, title and interest of William Sanderson, of, in and to a lot of ground situate in Franklin borough, Cambria county, Pa., fronting on an alley on the southeast, adjoining an alley on one side and a street on the other, extending back to an alley, having thereon erected a two story plank house, not now occupied.

ALSO, all the right, title and interest of Wm. Sanderson, of, in and to a large lot of ground situate in Franklin borough, Cambria county, Pa., fronting on an alley, adjoining lot of Robert Nitz, a street on the south, and Franklin street on the east, having thereon erected a two story plank house and stable, now in the occupancy of Mrs. Sanderson. Also, all the right, title and interest of Wm. Sanderson, of, in and to a lot of ground situate in the Second ward, Conemaugh borough, Cambria county, Pa., fronting on Clinton street, adjoining lot of Casper Wehn on one side and an alley on the other, running back to a post, having thereon erected a two story plank house, now in the occupancy of Archibald Reynolds. Taken in execution and to be sold at the suit of Joseph Heslop, for use of Jacob Zimmerman.

TERMS OF SALE.—One third of the purchase money to be paid when the property is knocked down, and the remaining two-thirds before the confirmation of the Deed.

JOHN RYAN, Sheriff.

Sheriff's Office, Ebensburg, Nov. 4, 1878.

NOTICE.—CAMBRIA COUNTY, SS:

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (L.S.) to H. Pringle, of Richland, Union county, Ohio, Susanah Pringle, intermarried with Nathan'l Weaver, and Sarah Pringle, of Marion, Whiteside county, Illinois, heirs and legal representatives of Martin Pringle, late of Summerhill township, Cambria county, Pa., deceased: You are hereby cited to be and appear before the Judges of the Orphan's Court, to be held at Ebensburg, in and for said county, on the first Monday of December next, then and there to accept or refuse to take the real estate of said Martin Pringle, deceased, at the valuation put upon it by an inquest duly awarded by the said Court and returned by the Sheriff on the 19th day of August A. D. 1878, or show cause why the same should not be sold. Total valuation, $3,174.00. Herein fail not. Witness the Hon. John Dean, President Judge of our said Court, at Ebensburg, this 6th day of November, A. D. 1878.

JAMES M. SINGER, Clerk.

Attest—JOHN RYAN, Sheriff.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.

Estate of JAMES MURRAY, dec'd.

Letters of administration on the estate of Jas. Murray, late of Ebensburg borough, Cambria county, deceased, have been granted to the undersigned, who hereby gives notice to all persons indebted to said estate that payment must be made without delay, and those having claims against the same will present them properly authenticated for settlement.

P. A. SHOEMAKER, Adm'r.

Ebensburg, Oct. 18, 1878.-6t.

DANIEL McLAUGHLIN, Attorney-at-Law, Johnstown, Pa. Office in the old Exchange building, (up-stairs,) corner of Clinton and Locust streets. Will attend to all business connected with his profession.

LOST ON THE MOORS.

MARY E. MOFFAT.

A wide stretch of breezy moorland, covered with purple heather, a sky whose radiant sunset tints were fast fading into neutral grays. Far in the distance some slowly rising smoke spirals told of warmth and shelter. It was a grateful sight to the eyes of a young man who had lost his way among the seemingly interminable solitudes, broken only by the sound of a startled rabbit, or whirring wing of a frightened partridge.

Shouldering his game-bag he at once turned his steps toward the dusky harbinger of home comfort.

As he reached the modest cottage he paused almost unconsciously, and looked in upon the family group just gathered around the table for their evening meal.—Then he passed on and gave a brief rap at the half-open door.

It was answered by a young girl. Doffing his cap the stranger said:

"I am alone, and have lost my way among the moors. Can you give me the wherewithal to break my fast, and after that a directing hint homeward?"

"Come in, sir," said the farmer, who had followed Marian to the door. "You are welcome to aught we have. Eat and driuk first, then it will be time enough to think of leaving. Haste, Marian, and set a chair for the youth, and bring hot porridge."

As Marian obeyed, Louis De Mornay's eyes followed her with a look of wonder lurking in their dark but brilliant depths. How had such a pure white lily blossomed from such a rugged stem, with a skin so satiny soft that the blue veins upon the temples could be traced beneath it, and eyes so large and clear in their unclouded blue that one could easily imagine them tinted from the sky itself as they looked out from waving masses of sun-bright hair, fastened only by the modest snood of blue ribbon.

Louis De Mornay was a young Cuban who had but lately fallen heir to large estates, both in England and upon the continent. One of these was a fine hunting seat in Scotland, in which he was spending the autumn months; and being of romantic temperament it was a great pleasure to him to sally out without his gamekeeper and to make his way over the country alone. This was the first time he had become bewildered as to location, and with the enthusiasm of his tropical Southern nature he added a silent but earnest thanksgiving to the old cottager's blessing over the food of which they were about to partake; for it was to him like the hand of fate that he had been led to the home which enshrined such a maiden.

Never, in his wanderings over land and sea, had his eyes rested on one so beautiful, and like some blossom which remains folded in its calyx for years, and then bursts at once into gorgeous, love-compelling beauty, so did his heart open to receive into it maid Marian's image.

She could not but feel the influence of his magnetic glances; and a color stole softly up into her cheeks, and the blue eyes scarcely dared lift themselves from out the ambush of the fringed lids as she listened to his conversation with her father. Why did her heart flutter so with pleasure when he accepted an invitation to remain until the morrow? She was glad to seek the solitude of her room to question and chide herself. What had this fiery-eyed stranger to do with her simple cottage life? Yet the memory of those burning glances would come back and thrill her very soul with their sweetness.

All unwitting of the true attraction, farmer McGregor responded to the young man's expressed desire to try his hand at the birds upon the surrounding moors for a few days by a cordial invitation to him to remain as his guest.

In his sturdy pride it never entered his mind that that child of his would think of lifting her eyes to that dark stranger, who, though to his knowledge a man of rank and consequence, was not at all to his taste in looks, with such midnight-dark hair and eyes, and a complexion like a Spaniard, though he well-liked to talk with him and listen to his stories of other lands and climes.

So it came upon him like a shock, when, after the stranger's stay had lengthened into weeks, he sought him one morning and told him the real attraction. It was his pearl—his white lily—it was Marian.

The old man's lips opened at first for a burst of anger, but he was his guest. He had eaten of his salt. So he, with an effort, controlled himself and answered quietly, but with a firmness which augured ill for the young lover's suit.

"My daughter must marry in her own station when the time comes. She's ower young yet to make her choice. You do us honor, sir, by your proposal; but the time will come when you will thank me for seeing the folly of such an unseemly union."

"Sir, she shall be cherished as she deserves to be if you will only give her to me. The De Mornays were never kuown to be aught but a knightly, chivalrous race.—Think again, I beg you. I love your daughter so truly that it can but be that she returns it. Such a fire could not burn without creating at least a shadowy flame."

"Have you not spoken to Marian yourself?"

"It is the custom of my country to speak first with the father." and the young man raised his head proudly to meet the old farmer's questioning look. "I have sought you first."

"That is well. I should ill like to have my girl unhappy. I wish you well, sir, and success in all else you undertake."

"The wish, without the gift I seek, will be but little good. You take the spring out of my life and then hope the machinery will work."

There was a bitter ring in his voice as he spoke, but Duncan McGergor was unmoved. Marian was his one little ewe lamb, and no stranger should claim her unless it were a youth after his own heart.

True to his code of honor, Louis departed without telling Marian of his feelings, although he did not intend to give her up.

After he had gone Marian drooped.—She made a brave effort to keep up, but it was to no purpose. The light died out of her eyes, and the soft bloom left her cheek. Her father noticed the change and taxed her with it.

"I hope it's not moping you are after that dark stranger, Marian, He's naught attractive to my way of thinking. He'll not be back, either, for he got more from me than he looked for."

"Oh, father, tell me, what do you mean?"

The blue eyes looked unnaturally bright as they gazed up into the old man's stern face.

"I mean that what I told him is true, and the sooner you put thoughts of him out of your own mind the better for your peace. No lad from foreign parts with such a blackamoor face can marry my snow white lass."

A sudden joy kindled the pale face and looked out of the wide eyes.

"Oh, father, did he ask you for me?—Then heaven be praised! I read his looks and acts aright. Oh," said she, sinking down upon her knees and catching her father's horny hand and kissing it, "I had lost my faith in human nature, and you have given it back. Bless you for it! Oh, father, if that face could tell a false story then the angels themselves would be untrue!"

"Calm yourself, Marian," interrupted her father, sternly. "Did you not hear me? It's all at an end. You cannot be his bride. It would be like mating a crow and a dove."

"I care not so he loves me," murmured Marian, softly. "Hear my vow," she said, suddenly, and again she sank upon her knees, and raised her pure, childlike, but resolute face to his. "I will never marry Louis De Mornay without your consent; but I will love him my life long, and die a maid for his sake if I cannot be his wife!"

It was too late to check her. The vow was taken, and would be kept. The strict old father himself would not have dared to ask her to break it.

Matters went on about the same at the farm. Several years passed by, during which Louis was constantly changing his his location, as indeed it was necessary for him to do to give personal supervision to his various estates.

During this period of unmitigated prosperity to the wealthy young landowner, farmer McGregor had been gradually but surley going down in the world. A succession of bad crops, a disease among his fine Durhams, until scarcely a poor half dozen was left of his large herd, and a murrain which proved fatal to the sheep, left him at last in a very straitened condition.

Still he managed to get his rent money together. The pay day was near, and the farmer had put the hardly-earned money in a leather-n wallet preparatory to a start.

"Well, wife," he said with a sigh, "here's pay for the last year. It's main doubtful, though, where the next will come from."

"Keep up, Duncan," was her cheerful answer. "It's all for the best, though one cannot always ken why."

So he started away to the laird's county-seat on his stout cob, without a weapon of defence; for it was a peaceful country, and he had no fear of molestation.

But his journey was not half over when, in some lonely woods through which the road ran, an escaped convict seized his opportunity and struck him senseless from his horse, rifled his pockets, and, mounting, rode rapidly away with the plunder.

About half an hour later he was found by the gamekeeper of an adjoining estate and taken at once to the big house and cared for. The master was away, but the housekeeper was good and efficient, and under her good offices he soon came to consciousness, but not to the ability to help himself. One blow had fallen upon his shoulder, and it proved to be dislocated. There was no alternative but to remain helpless for weeks. So the good woman sent for Marian to come to her father, having by judicious questioning learned that she was the light of his old eyes next to the good wife, who of course could not be spared from the home duties.

Marian came, much to her father's joy. The day afterward the young proprietor arrived also. The housekeeper told him at once of his strange guests, and he hastened to assure them of his cordial welcome.

As he entered the room Marian rose from beside her father's bedside, and after one surprised glance held out her hand, her eyes shining like twin stars. It was Louis De Mornay.

His pale face brightened with a sudden light as he went forward. Taking her two tender hands within his own he turned to the old father.

"See," he said, gravely, "it is the will of God that you should give me Marian for my very own. Her steps have been led to my roof-tree by the hand of fate. She is to me the most precious treasure in the whole world. Will you not give her to me?"

The old man looked up into the dark, earnest face. Its expression of sincerity and kindness could not be misunderstood, and in spite of himself he became for the first time conscious of his noble, and manly beauty. Then, too, Marian's vow rang through his ears, and he turned his eyes on her face, which was like an April morning—first smiles and then tears.

At last he reached out a trembling hand and placed it upon Marian's bright head.

"Take her," he said, hoarsely. "It is God's will and the lass loves you. I'm not sure, if I could give her up, but the poor bairn might soon be without a sheltering roof tree. The world's not gone well with me of late, young man."

"That is because you slighted Love, and the little tyrant is angry," said Louis playfully, as he turned and looked questioningly into Marian's blushing face.

"Little one, is it true? Do you love me? Look up and tell me."

She tried to raise her blue eyes to meet his, but their radiance was too powerful. Her sweet lips trembled, but before the word came they were drowned in a shower of kisses.

Thus they were betrothed.

ADHESIVE postage stamps were first adopted in the United States in 1847. Since then the Postoffice Department has issued to the public 9,719,308,527 postage stamps of various denominations, the value of which was $280,327,363 09. During the last five years 111,572,956 postage stamps, valued at $4,641,823 42, were issued to executive departments of the Government. The aggregate number of stamped envelopes issued is, in round figures, 1,839,000,000. Of these 1,269,362,325 were plain and 570,229,300 were 'special request' envelopes. Official stamped envelopes for executive departments have been issued to the amount of 77,910,075, the Post-office Department itself having taken 66,183,800, and the War Department 11,727,075. None of the other departments have ever called for envelopes of this description. During five years and two months (from May 1, 1873, to July 1, 1878,) since their adoption, postal cards have been issued to the number of 351,249,500.

THE COURSE OF TRUE LOVE.

It is not often that the 'silly sooth' of a love tale is of importance so momentous as to deserve embalming in the grave editorial columns of a newspaper that has grown to manhood's proportion, and shows you the beard underneath the muffler, but—listen to this one. In 1841 a Prussian country squire, young enough to have his romance, but old enough to have shaken his health in burschen boots at Gottingen and Berlin, and wild hunting frolics in Pomeranian forests, came to the obscure peasants' watering place called Mitterbad, in the valley of Unten, in Tyrol, to bathe and regain his tone and elasticity of frame. Mitterbad was the humblest of peasant hot springs, and in the Tyrol they know how to preserve the primitive simplicity of these places, for they take a noble pride in eschewing luxuries and keeping expenses down, so that every man, no matter how poor, may be able to go to the springs and take the baths if he needs them. Mitterbad, however, if it had no fashion, could still boast of beauty, and Josepha Holtzner, the daughter of the owner of the baths, though she had not yet passed out of her teens, was a belle of some seasons, and had suitors from all the country side around. She was a girl of some force of character, and had all those brilliant personal attractions which give to the Tyrolean women, when truly lovely, such a wonderful fascination. The Prussian squire, a man of austere demeanor and overbearingly haughty manner, saw Josepha, admired, worshipped, and began his wooing with impetuosity that in a short time he had frightened off all his rivals and conquered the maiden's heart as by a coup de main. Only Holtzner himself, Josepha's father, objected to the girl's receiving the attentions of the 'heretic Prussian;' but, though Mitterbad was only a small place, and had many curious eyes, love found its opportunities in a diplomatic caution that was shrewd enough to baffle a dozen inquisitive parents. Old Hoisl, the attendant at the bathing establishment, who loved the maiden fondly, and was munificently subsidized by the lover, was willing to serve as postillon d'amour, and as long as he lived this ancient Ganymede delighted to tell, with many a chuckle, of the innumerable love letters that passed through his parboiled hands, and of the many stolen rendezvous at which he presided and over which he watched, playing the part of the wall in Pyramus and Thisbe.

The mad courtship went on, Josepha becoming fonder and fonder of her Otto, and he finding her more and more indispensable to his existence. The squire was a proud man, a 'Junker,' par excellence, full of the exclusiveness and spirit of caste of his order, and Josepha was but a simple, frank maiden of the Tyrol valleys, who might not shine if transplanted into the glitter of a court. There was a struggle, but love conquered, and the squire, in order to possess his Josepha, resolved at a leap to cross the almost immeasurable chasm which, to his haughty soul, seemed to divide his own rank from the burgher class. He visited old Holtzner in ceremonious state and demanded Josepha's hand in marriage. He was refused. This was something which had not at all entered into the Junker's calculations, for he had only estimated his own sacrifices in proposing to marry so much beneath him, and had never dreamed that there might be greater sacrifices on the part of the other party. But old Holtzner did not leave him long in doubt about the matter. He was one of those stern, sturdy peasants who do more honor to the Tyrol than would the proudest nobility in the world. The old faith of his fathers was much more to him, and should be for his daughter, than any worldly honors or temporal advancement, and the staunch peasant sent the haughty Prussian to the right about with a peremptory "no," from which there was no appeal. More than this, he stormed and swore as if the "Junker's" offer was rather an indignity put upon him than an honor, ordered his daughter into the house, and vowed that if she had any more intercourse with the "heretic" he would cudgel her with his alpenstock until her ribs were sore. But there was no danger of Josepha's being cudgeled for such an offence.

The rejected lover, whose name in full was Karl Otto von Bismarck-Schouhausen, afterwards prince and chancellor of the the German empire, left Mitterbad that very night never to return, and six years after he married Johanne von Putkammer, About the same time the fair Josepha was married to a petty official of the Episcopal court of Justice at Saltzburg. And so these two lovers drift out of the romance forever, but the tremendous consequences of that marriage manque have filled many volumes and are like to fill many more. What might have been the state of Europe today had sturdy old Holtzner answered "yes" instead of "no?" Might not Bismarck have stayed a simple country squire, content to raise his cabbage and hunt the boar and wol

THE CAMBRIA FREEMAN.

EBENSBURG, PA.,

FRIDAY, - - - - - NOV. 15, 1878.

AT the late election, Philadelphia polled 70,000 Republican votes, and 54,000 Democratic votes, and returned 31 Republican and 7 Democratic members to the lower branch of the Legislature. In other words, it required nearly 8,000 Democratic voters to elect one representative, while 3,000 Republican voters were enabled to do the same thing. This is Republican justice as administered to Democrats under the present villainous State apportionment bill.

THE Lancaster Intelligencer, in its issue of Friday last, expresses its decided preference for Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, U. S. Senator from Delaware, as the next Democratic candidate for President. Mr. Bayard is unquestionably a very able man, possessing a character without reproach, and enjoys not only the confidence of his own party, but also the respect of the whole country. A better opinion we think can be formed on this subject, however, after the adjournment of the approaching session of Congress, and we only refer to it now to indicate the position taken by the Intelligencer, one of the ablest and most influential organs of the Democratic party in the State.

WHEN the Philadelphia Times of Monday last, in an article on the defeat of ex-Governor Curtin for Congress, said, "Many good men have been smitten in the past by such combinations as defeated Curtin, Jessup and Campbell in the late contest," will it be good enough to inform us to what particular candidate by the name of Campbell it referred? Of course Col. McClure could not have meant Gen. Jacob M. Campbell, who was defeated for Congress in this district by A. H. Coffroth, but not by any such "combination" as Governor Curtin had to encounter. We presume that some other Campbell in some other part of the State was meant, and as we do not happen to remember any other defeated candidate by that name, we are prompted to ask for the information.

PRIOR to the elections last week, there was a possibility that at the election two years hence the people might fail in making a choice for President, and that the House of Representatives would be required to perform that duty. Much as the election of a President by Congress is always to be deprecated, it may now be regarded as pretty certain that the next Presidential contest will be fought out by the two old parties, as they have so long heretofore been, for surely the most enthusiastic Greenbacker, after last week's results, can no longer be deluded with the belief that his party will prove to be a disturbing element in the Presidential battle of 1880. Much was expected from it, but nothing substantial and enduring has been achieved, and its exit from the political stage has been as quiet and peaceable as its entry upon it was boisterous and aggressive.

A GREAT DEAL of surprise has naturally been expressed at the defeat of ex-Governor Curtin for Congress in the Centre district by a man named Seth H. Yocum.—The district is composed of Centre, Clinton, Clearfield, Elk, Mifflin and Union counties, and is strongly Democratic, having given a majority two years ago of 5,035, while the majority against Gov. Curtin is 79.—His defeat is easily accounted for. Yocum was the Greenback candidate, was endorsed by the Republican party, and received the combined vote of both. Thus in Centre county his vote falls below the combined vote of Hoyt and Mason only 39, while Curtin's vote was only 292 less than Dill's, and in this way, although Dill had a majority of 1,768 in the county, Curtin had only 49. The same combined vote was cast against Curtin in the other five counties. Gov. Curtin was not as a rule cut by the Democrats, though a few of them refused to vote for him, and the same united Greenback and Republican vote would as likely have defeated any other candidate as it did him. His nomination was a mistake. Whenever the Democratic party passes by its own trusted leaders, who have battled through good and through evil report for its organization and success, and for some temporary reason prefers a recent convert, the chances are that the experiment will end in ignoble failure, and in our judgment it ought so to end, much as we admire and respect Andrew G. Curtin.

THE Harrisburg Telegraph mentions it as a suggestive fact that every Republican newspaper in the State contends that the election of a Republican majority on joint ballot in the State Legislature secures the re-election of United States Senator Cameron. This is a high unsolicited compliment paid to James Donald Cameron.—Johnstown Tribune.

It is also a notorious and suggestive fact that with the exception, perhaps, of the Harrisburg Telegraph, not a single Republican paper in the State, nor a single Republican stump speaker, ever mentioned Cameron's name in connection with the U. S. Senate. The Tribune never did it, but now that the election is over and a Republican majority on joint ballot in the Legislature secured, every Republican paper is eager to proclaim its devotion to the son of Simon Cameron. Why? Simply because they have not the courage to resist the demands of the Cameron ring. If a vote of the honest Republicans in this State could be taken on the question of Don Cameron's re-election to the Senate, no sane man doubts that the result would be overwhelmingly adverse to him. The Lancaster New Era, a Republican paper, had the courage to say of Cameron, in its issue of Saturday last, that "there is taint in his very touch, and the representative who does his bidding is as bad as his master." These are brave words, admitted to be true by nine-tenths of the Republicans in the State, and yet the man of whom they are written will receive the Republican caucus nomination for Senator—will be elected by the votes of Republican members, all of whom know, and most of whom admit, that he is both incompetent and undeserving—and for six years from the 4th of next March Don Cameron will dwarf and dishonor the great State of Pennsylvania in the highest legislative body in the country. Such is the power of the Cameron ring over its obedient slaves.

Investigate or Prosecute.

It was to have been expected that the editor of the Johnstown Tribune, after getting down off the high horse he rode during the campaign, would long and keenly feel the sting of Gen. Coffroth's election to Congress from this district.—From the best of motives, no doubt, he was completely wrapped up in the election of Gen. Campbell, and regarded the defeat of that gentleman as being entirely out of the question. As his elevation on the Congressional ladder was fearfully high, his sudden fall has been correspondingly disastrous. Realizing the full extent of his defeat, he is yet unable to shake from his back that burden of iniquity known as William Lilly, who has been to him what the old man of the sea was to Sinbad, the sailor, and he now modestly asks Gen. Coffroth to court a full and open investigation of the cadetship sale charge, or make him (the editor) the defendant in an action for libel. We have been under the impression all the time that A. H. Coffroth's alleged connection with the sale of a naval cadetship, William Lilly acting as broker, had been very thoroughly investigated and finally disposed of. We may be mistaken, but our recollection of the matter is not precisely such stuff as dreams are made of.

But to be serious, we supposed that this cadetship business, made exceptionally conspicuous in the campaign by the Tribune, was the very last thing its editor would wish to pluck up by its drowned locks, to breath new life into it and demand for it another investigation. Has it not been investigated by a tribunal selected by the editor himself—we mean the voters of this Congressional district—and haven't they, after having heard him, his proofs and allegations, filed their award against him, and in favor of Gen. Coffroth? Have not the people of Somerset county especially, among whom Gen. C. was born, among whom he has spent all his life, and who know him best, branded the charge, in tones of thunder, as false and malicious? Their decree is as irrevocable as the laws of the Medes and Persians, and from it there can be no appeal. If the Tribune and its witness, William Lilly, have been driven out of court as unworthy of belief, they must bear the odium which always attaches itself to wilful calumny and falsehood. If, however, when Gen. Coffroth goes to Congress, Lilly can prevail on some member of that body who don't know him and his antecedents to start an investigation, we presume that Gen. C. will meet it there as he has met it here, and with corresponding success.

As regards a prosecution for libel, which the editor of the Tribune courts so anxiously, we suppose that Gen. C. will refuse to gratify him, since the people of this district have said, through the ballot-boxes, that although the Tribune has perpetrated libel after libel upon him, they didn't believe a word of them, and with their decision Gen. Coffroth ought to be, and we have no doubt is, abundantly satisfied.—His additional vindication, which would be the result of a prosecution for libel against the editor of the Tribune, would be entirely superfluous.

ALTHOUGH Hon. R. Milton Speer, Chairman of the Democratic State Committee, did not succeed in "organizing victory," to use a military phrase, we have no doubt at all that he exerted himself as vigorously and intelligently in that direction as any other Democrat in his place could possibly have done, and the disparaging criticisms which we occasionally see in certain Democratic papers, to say nothing of such radical heavy weights as the Ebensburg Herald, on his mode of conducting the campaign are as puerile and ill-timed, as they are undeserved. We never attached the same importance to the Chairmanship of a State Committee that others do, nor do we believe, as some persons seem to do, that its incumbent can perform political miracles. There was a time before the construction of railroads, and especially before the invention of the telegraph, when the chairman was a political power in the State. This was notably the case in the memorable campaign between Porter and Ritner in 1838, when the position was occupied by Daniel Sturgeon, whose addresses to the people of the State, signed with his name, although written by Ovid F. Johnson, and which were unequalled in style and matter either before or since, found their way into every nook and corner of the commonwealth. But that time has passed away and the work of a chairman now is a very different thing from what it was forty years ago. Mr. Speer could appeal to the people as he did to smash the Cameron ring, but they heeded him not, and when he "summoned spirits from the vastly deep," they refused to come. After all is said, the effective work of a campaign must be done by the Chairmen of the County Committees, corresponding with and acting on the suggestions and advice of the Chairman of the State Committee. Mr. Speer took the most out of the situation that was in it, and deserves the thanks of the Democracy of the State for the honest efforts he made to command what the cause certainly deserved, a full measure of success.

THE New York Herald of late date contained an article denunciatory of the management of the Brazilian Railroad contract by Messrs. P. & T. Collins, stating that the contractors had suspended work, that their employes were without supplies, and that no money was in the exchequer to pay them. In reply Messrs. P. & T. Collins publish in Monday's Philadelphia Times a letter wherein they deny in toto the allegations of the Herald. They say that work has not been suspended and will not be. "We started out to build the road," they say; "we know it can be built, and with God's help we will build it." There has been no panic or mutiny among the men, and though no money has yet been paid them, they all rest satisfied that they will be paid in good time; while as to provisions, there are enough at San Antonio to last two months, and extra supplies of both provisions and medicines left New York on the Rio de Janeiro on the 5th instant. This statement would seem to pretty effectually dispose of the many lies told of the Collins contract from its inception down to the present time.—Johnstown Tribune.

The Official Majorities.

NEARLY ALL THE COUNTIES HEARD FROM. THE DIVISION OF THE LEGISLATURE.

Reports of official majorities for Governor have been received from every county in the State. The result is as follows:

DILL'S MAJORITIES.		HOYT'S MAJORITIES.
Adams	619	Allegheny	7421
Bedford	333	Armstrong*	514
Berks	6974	Beaver*	600
Butler	126	Blair	310
Cambria	1146	Bucks	50
Carbon	110	Bradford	2878
Centre	1768	Cameron	27
Clarion	1822	Chester	2712
Clearfield*	1624	Crawford	2124
Clinton	885	Dauphin	1265
Columbia	1827	Delaware	1632
Cumberland	1088	Erie	1807
Elk*	674	Forest	49
Fayette	1557	Franklin	43
Fulton	428	Huntingdon	337
Greene	1823	Indiana	1929
Jefferson*	196	Lancaster	6804
Juniata	378	Lackawanna	2924
Lehigh	1730	Lawrence	1271
Lycoming	1702	Lebanon	1268
Mifflin	12	Luzerne	2908
Monroe	2247	M'Kean	222
Montgomery	164	Mercer	748
Montour	606	Philadelphia*	16344
Northampton	3474	Potter*	632
Northumberland	1307	Snyder*	320
Perry	14	Somerset	994
Pike	638	Susquehanna	1586
Schuylkill	1663	Tioga	2090
Sullivan	162	Union*	180
Westmoreland	1173	Venango	447
Wyoming	183	Wayne	325
York	3684	Warren	1149
		Washington	346
Total	41937	Total	64259
			41937
		Hoyt's majority	22319

THE NEXT LEGISLATURE.

The returns for members of the Legislature are now complete and justify the compilation of a table showing the political calculation. Of the twenty-six Senators elected last week the Democrats get 13, the Republicans 11, and the Greenbackers 2; of those holding over 21 are Republicans and 3 are Democrats, leaving the Republicans a majority of 14 over all in that body. The membership of the House is as follows, shown by counties:

	R.	D.	G.		R.	D.	G.
Adams	...	2	...	Lancaster	6	...	...
Allegheny	12	2	...	Lawrence	2	...	...
Armstrong	1	1	...	Lebanon	2	...	...
Beaver	1	1	...	Lehigh	...	3	...
Bedford	...	2	...	Luzerne	6	1	2
Berks	1	5	...	Lycoming	...	1	2
Blair	1	1	...	M'Kean	1	...	...
Bradford	3	...	...	Mercer	3	...	...
Bucks	2	2	...	Mifflin	1	...	...
Butler	...	2	...	Monroe	...	1	...
Cambria	...	2	...	Montgom'y	2	3	...
Cameron	1	...	...	Montour	1	...	...
Carbon	...	2	...	N'hampton	...	3	...
Centre	...	2	...	N'thumb'd	...	2	...
Chester	4	...	...	Perry	1	...	...
Clarion	...	2	...	Philadelp'a	31	7	...
Clearfield	...	1	...	Pike	...	1	...
Clinton	...	1	...	Potter	...	...	1
Columbia	...	2	...	Snyder	1	...	...
Crawford	3	...	...	Somerset	2	...	...
Cumberl'd	...	2	...	Schuylkill	1	3	2
Dauphin	3	...	...	Sullivan	1	...	...
Delaware	2	...	...	Susqueh'na	...	...	2
Elk	...	1	...	Tioga	2	...	...
Erie	3	1	...	Union	1	...	...
Fayette	...	1	1	Venango	2	1	...
Forest	...	1	...	Warren	...	...	1
Franklin	2	1	...	Washing'n	1	2	...
Fulton	...	1	...	Wayne	...	...	3
Greene	...	1	...	W'tmorel'd	...	3	...
Hunting'n	...	...	2	Wyoming	...	1	...
Indiana	2	...	...	York	...	4	...
Jefferson	...	1	...
Juniata	...	1	...	Totals	108	77	16

RECAPITULATION.

	Next Legislature.			Last Legislature.
	R.	D.	G.	R. maj.	R.	D.	R. maj.
Senate	32	15	2	14	31	19	12
House	108	77	16	15	121	80	41
Totals	140	93	18	29	152	99	53

Found on a Doorstep.

SAD STORY OF A NEW ORLEANS FAMILY—ONLY A BABY LEFT AFTER THE YELLOW FEVER SCOURGE.

NEWPORT, R. I., November 9.—A sad story of the recent yellow fever scourge in the south has just come to light. A few evenings ago a well dressed babe, about one year old, was left at the doorstep of a well to do citizen, Mr. Newcomb, of Providence, who found it there upon answering a sharp ring of the door bell. It had a tiny gold ring on its finger and a gold necklace with a gold dollar attached around its neck. By the side of the infant (a girl) was a complete outfit of richly trimmed clothes. A letter was also found, in which the heart broken mother who had left it there stated that she had lost her father, mother, brother, husband and three children by yellow fever in New Orleans, and that she fled to Cairo to escape the plague, with her baby; that both were attacked with the fever in that place and recovered, though the writer felt as though she was losing her memory, and, no doubt, would soon be a raving maniac. It appeared she had known Mr. Newcomb and his family, and in the letter she stated that, fearing she would lose her identity, she had made up her mind to give them her babe, as she knew they would be good to it. She urged them not to look her up, as she was going to New York, on the midnight train, "there to die unknown." She signed herself as Mrs. Josie Hall. Mr. Newcomb was greatly affected, for he had known the lady's family, who, he said, stood high in the south, Mrs. Hall being a beautiful and accomplished lady. A letter was received from her the following day, dated Providence, she having written it before leaving the city, which simply gave instructions for the care of her offspring.

Two days after the receipt of the letter a telegram was received by Mr. Newcomb from Boston stating that Mrs. Hall was in a dying condition at a hotel in that city. He immediately started for Boston and arrived in season to receive the dying woman's instructions. She begged him to be good to her child and to send her body to New Orleans for interment. She left some money to pay the funeral expenses, also some for the care of the child. The remains were forwarded to New Orleans.

A letter received from the latter city throws some additional light on the sad affair. Mrs. Hall, it appears, while deranged with grief, had fled from the city in her father's carriage accompanied by the faithful coachman, and went to Cairo' where the coachman died. After her arrival there her uncle and aunt also died. She immediately left Cairo and fled north. The babe will be tenderly cared for, and the mother's instructions will be faithfully carried out.

—A Tyrone special to the Harrisburg Patriot, dated Nov. 8th, says: Intelligence from Bellefonte states that a fire broke out there in a dwelling house about 5:30 o'clock this afternoon, destroying the house and its contents. Two little children, Fredie and Agnes Jackson, aged three and five years, respectively, were inmates of the house at the time the fire occurred. Although strenuous efforts were made to rescue them they perished in the flames.—The head, arms and legs were entirely burned off from the body of the little girl. The boy was burnt into a crisp. The mother is wild with grief. The origin of the fire was not learned.

—A first-class locomotive can now be bought for less than $7,000. The price three or four years ago was $24,000.

News and Other Notings.

—The New York Sun says Tilden will never again be a Presidential candidate.

—Two deaths from yellow fever in New Orleans on Wednesday; fatal cases to date, 16,802.

—An old woman in North Carolina fainted a few days ago at her first sight of a railroad train.

—The Minnequa Springs hotel, in Bradford county, burned down on Tuesday morning. Loss, $75,000; insurance $50,000.

—The annual inspection of the Pennsylvania Railroad and its branches has been completed. Everything was in apple pie order.

—A Lowell boy's clothing caught fire, and in his fright he jumped into a cradle in which a baby lay. Both children were burned to death.

—Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., the great patent medicine man, and one of the largest advertisers in the country has been elected to Congress.

—Among the curiosities exhibited at the Reading fair was a bureau consisting of 72,000 pieces of wood. It was manufactured in Lebanon county.

—The New York policemen think Mr. Stewart's body was lifted over the fence. They have found marks of a bag, and are arresting all well known thieves.

—William Locker, J. N. Grant, Edward Wambolt and C. W. Richards were drowned at White Haven, Nova Scotia, on Saturday, by the upsetting of their boat.

—Paul Boyton has received an order for 300 of his life preservers from the French Government, and was to return to this country in a steamer sailing on the 12th instant.

—A three year-old son of a Mr. Schell was lost in the woods of Potter county a couple of weeks ago and has not been found.

—Charles Hook, a poor shoemaker, of Pittsburg, left that place some years ago without one dollar, to find work in the West. He came back a few days ago worth $135,000 in gold.

—General Harry White, in a recent interview with a Pittsburg reporter, said that he still had in "his mind's eye" the improvement of the Kiskiminetas and Conemaugh rivers by Congress.

—Mr. and Mrs. Dawley, of Griswold, Conn., celebrated their golden wedding a few days ago. The same day their son Thomas narrowly escaped being lynched for an attack upon an old woman.

—For the murder of John M. Armstrong in Camden, N. J., Benjamin Hunter was on Saturday sentenced to be hanged on Friday, January 10. The case is to be carried to the Court of Errors and Appeals.

—Frank Small, a Florida statesman, who signed his name with an X and was so conspicuous a witness at Tallahasse two years ago, when he was anxious to expose Democratic frauds, is now in jail for stealing hides.

—Miss Agnes Scott, of Tiffin, Ohio, was formally admitted to the practice of law the other day in Columbus. Among several other applicants admitted to the bar was Mr. Burchard A. Hayes, the eldest son of his father.

—A swarm of bees took possession of the chimney of the Middlefield (Conn.) Methodist church during the summer, and when a fire was kindled in a stove on a recent Sunday the floor of the church basement literally flowed with honey.

—A father and his son were simultaneously married to a mother and her daughter, in Maysville, Ind. The younger couple had been courting for a long time, but the parents, eighty and eighty-one, went into wedlock on a sudden impulse.

—The form of Colonel Thomas A. Scott's illness, which took him to Europe, was a severe stroke of paralysis. It attacked him in the left leg and existed as far up the body as the hip. Above this the colonel felt no sign of the stroke.

—The friends of Conrad Kapp, that resident of Keokuk who tried to starve himself to death, after he had lived for three weeks without taking food or water, concluded that it was time to interfere, and held him while they forced beef tea into his stomach.

—George Fessler, a former treasurer of Stark county, Ohio, who stole $20,000 of the public money, has concluded that the shortest way across is the quickest away around. That is to say, he walked into Court at Canton the other day and made a clean breast of it.

—John Tibbetts, of Augusta, Me., had a gathering of relatives at his house the other day. Among the number in attendance were four sisters, whose united ages amount to 292 years, their ages respectively being 78, 74, 72, and 68 years. Their mother lived to the age of 92 years.

—The Scientific American announces that half the vinegar now sold is rank poison, and a Massachusetts chemist states that out of twelve jars of pickles, put up by different wholesale dealers, he found copper in ten of them. And yet people will continue to "pizen" themselves.

—Mrs. Kate Heath, 94 years of age, recently walked the entire distance from her home in Potton, Vt., six miles, to North Troy, and returned the same day. She is the daughter of the notorious Colonel Rutter, who commanded the Indians and English at the burning and sacking of Royalton.

—Rev. Thomas Dudley, of Kentucky, is perhaps the best preserved clergyman in the United States. He is eighty seven years old, and has been sixty years in the ministry, but continues his clerical work as actively as ever, and preached with great vigor two sermons on successive days last week.

—The Memphis Appeal lost during the epidemic a book keeper, 8 compositors and 10 men from the press-room, while 16 members of the families of its employees died. The Avalanche lost its business manager, 2 editors, 5 compositors, 2 pressmen, a porter and 2 carriers, and the Ledger 4 compositors.

—Mrs. Diana Haines was made insane in Mount Gilead, Ohio, by a false report that she was heiress to $100,000, the sudden elation and disappointment unbalancing her reason. She tried to commit suicide and was sent to an asylum. Lately $700,000 was really bequeathed to her, but she will not believe it.

—Mgr. Capel received into the Catholic Church three weeks ago the Rev. Orby Shipley, author of a well-known volume of essays on "The Church and the World," and wife; also two Oxford undergraduates, The Marchioness of Ripon and four graduates of Oxford "went over" on another day of the same week.

—Six years ago an express agent at Marshall, Minn., missed a money package of $25, and could not find it, high or low. The old safe was recently exchanged, and at headquarters they found the package stuck by the wax to the under side of the drawer, where it had been shoved in and out for six years undiscovered.

—Wingate was her maiden name and she resides in Abbeville District, South Carolina. She has been married four times, and has answered to five names, viz: Wingate, Wood, Walker, Wombles and Wade, and she is now a widow, and, from reports, is likely to add another W to the list before winter fairly sets in.

—Two women in Scottsville, Ind., were addicted to talking scandalously about their neighbors. There were thirty to forty exceedingly cowardly and brutal men in the same place. The men took the women from their home at nigh, bared their shoulders, and whipped them with hickory rods until the blood ran. One of the women was over 70 years old.

—Among those who died of the plague just before the frosts came in New Orleans was a man who had deserted his wife and five children in Indiana, disposed of most of her property and converted it into hard cash, and then eloped with a servant girl employed in their house. The girl herself had died of the fever five days before.

—For the past two or three weeks near sunset every day, says a correspondent of the Middletown Argus from State Hill, an immense flock of crows, probably more than 1,500,000, occupying an air region a mile in length and a quarter of a mile in width, are to be seen as they pass over this place in their flight northward to some accustomed roosting place.

—A fire broke out Saturday morning in the Ocean House, Cape May, N. J. The building was a wooden one, as are all the houses in Cape May. A high wind was blowing, and in three hours nearly all the hotels and cottages were destroyed. The Stockton House is the only considerable hotel standing. The amount of the loss has not yet been reported.

—A despatch from Bimlipatam, Madras, dated Friday, reports that the British ship Fifeshire has been totally lost while on the passage from Madras to Liverpool. Twenty-two of the crew were drowned. The Fifeshire belonged to the firm of Law & Taylor, Glasgow, and was commanded by Captain J. St. John. She was built on the Clyde in 1869 and was 700 tons burden.

—If anybody in this vicinity, says the Empire City (Kan.) Echo, has a white cow that they imagine has been robbed of her milk, for their information we will state that on last Saturday afternoon a pig was noticed to be deliberately sucking the lacteous fluid from the udder of a bovine of the above description on West Main street. This is a fact, as a number of the residents of that part of town will testify.

—Mr. Samuel R. Mason, late Greenback candidate for Governor, made an assignment on Friday, something over twenty-five thousand dollars in judgments having been entered up against him. This could all have been averted had Mr. Mason been elected Governor and a sufficient number of greenbacks issued to give every man enough to pay his debts, according to the platforms made for such emergencies.

—Mr. Bowman, of Owasso, Mich., was a henpecked husband. He bore it as long as he could, and then took to the woods, where he built a hut under the roots of a fallen tree, ate nuts and roots, and bid from his wife. He was not discovered until two weeks after his disappearance, and then Mrs. Bowman, made repentant by sorrow at his absence, induced him to return home by promising to henpeck him no more.

—In Williamsport some days ago, Mrs. Sarah Webb, wife of Mr. Benjamin Webb, was at the washtub, and getting too close to the fire her clothing was soon in flames. She ran out of the house to get the assistance of her husband, who was a short distance away, but this only added to the fierceness of the flames, and before her husband reached her she was so badly burned that she died in great agony. The unfortunate lady was about twenty six years old.

—A lady residing in Coatesville, about to leave the house alone for a time, the family consisting of herself and husband only, carefully placed her husband's watch in the oven of the stove having no fire in it. This was done to prevent it being stolen by any tramps who might break in during her absence. The watch remained there for several days, when a fire was built in the stove and the watch roasted and ruined.

—Martin L. Nissley, brother of the cashier of the Hummelstown, Dauphin county, National bank, recently removed from the latter place to Fairburg, Jefferson county, Nebraska. Since his residence in the latter place, he has been singularly unfortunate. He lost his two little sons by death, and then he and his wife took sick, but are now recovering. While in bed sick his barn took fire and was consumed, together with all its contents, including three horses.

—Governor Hampton, with some friends, was hunting deer near Columbia, S. C., Thursday afternoon, when the mule he was riding became frightened and, the bridle breaking, the Governor leaped from his saddle, sustaining severe injuries in his fall. His right leg was broken in two places below the knee, the bones protruding, and his ankle was badly hurt. His injuries will probably keep him confined to his bed for a long time.

—Great are the virtues of the jury trial as illustrated by the case in our justice courts last week, says the Carthage (N. Y.) Republican. The amount in controversy was $7. To adjust the matter it required the drawing of fifty-two jurors, the administering of nearly 100 oaths, the windage of 4 lawyers, the service of 5 constables, the consumption of 3 whole days and a portion of 3 nights, the talking of 50 or 60 pages of testimony, and all of this to reach the conclusion, no cause of action.

—Two deaths from yellow fever were reported in New Orleans and two in Memphis on Friday. The New Orleans Board of Health has discontinued its daily meeting, and will take no note of new cases for publication. The Catholic Relief Association of New Orleans, organized to carry on the work of relief, without respect to race or creed, after the suspension of the other charities being pressed by applicants and nearly out of funds, solicits contributions, to be made to Thomas Layton, Treasurer.

—On Monday morning last Conrad Ziner, while drilling in Silliman's colliery, at Mahanoy City, Schuylkill county, had his back broken by a fall of coal and cannot recover. Three men, two of them brothers, named Martin and John Murray and James McHugh, were killed at Locust Gap in Spring colliery on the same day.—Two cars that were being hoisted together became uncoupled. The hind car ran furiously down the slope and killed the three workmen before they could get away from the track.

—A curious case has arisen in the Criminal Court at Marshalltown, Iowa, which promises to produce some interesting complications in law. A jury on Friday night found a man named Dakin guilty of the murder of John K. Slough last March, the punishment being imprisonment in the penitentiary for life. Next day Frank Ross, who formerly worked for Dakin, after the close of the trial made affidavit that he (Ross) killed Slough. It is not yet decided what the course of the State's attorney will be.

—John Peyton, a wealthy citizen of Roanoke, Ind., died last Saturday week and was buried in the cemetery two miles from town. On Thursday night the Chief of Police found the body in a dissecting-room of the Medical College at Fort Wayne, Ind. The Faculty state that the body was brought there on Monday by an unknown man. They refused to work on a body received in such a mysterious manner, and notified the Coroner, who declined to take action. The body was taken to Roanoke and reinterred on Friday.

—Nine hotels, twenty-one cottages, about 1,000 bath houses, and Denzot's pier, were burned by the great fire at Cape May on Saturday, and the loss is estimated at about $500,000. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. The hotels destroyed were the Ocean House, Congress Hall, the Merchants' Hotel, the Centre House, the Atlantic House, the Avenue House, the Centennial Hotel, the Knickerbocker House and the Columbia House. The burned district covers about forty acres.

HIP, HIP, HURRA!

BIG BARGAINS for ALL!

PAUSE, PONDER, AND PURCHASE.

M. J. TEITELBAUM

Has recently returned to Loretto from the Eastern cities with a large, varied and elegant stock of which were bought from first hands for cash, and will be sold for cash at lower prices than buyers on credit can afford to take. Come then, everybody, and see how easy it is to save enough in your purchases to pay you for a journey of twenty miles, if need be, to reach our store, as all can readily realize by examining the following wonderful

FALL AND WINTER GOODS!

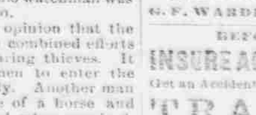
LIST OF PRICES:

Light Brown Sugar, 8c, 9 lb.
Best White " 10c. "
Good Green Coffee, 6 lbs, $1.
Molasses, 40c. 9 gal.
Eagle Coffee, 9 boxes for 25c.
Cashmeres, 16c. 9 yd. and up.
Alpacas, 15c. 9 yard and up.
Plaids, 8c. 9 yd. and upward.
100 Men's Suits, at $5 and up.
Boys' Suits at $2 and upward.
Pants at 75 cents and upward.
A large stock of Men's Over coats at $4 50 and upward.
Calicoes, 5c. 9 yd.
Muslins, 5c. 9 yd. and upw'd.
Flannels at 20c. 9 yd. and up.
White Canton Flannel at 6c. 9 yd. and upward.
Brown Canton Flannel at 5c.

GREAT "BAR"-



GAINS FOR ALL!

Men's Boots at $2 and upw'd.
Boys' Boots at 75 cts. and up.
500 Pairs Women's and Misses' Shoes.
Women's Shoes, $1.10 and up.
Children's Shoes, 50 cts. and up.
Men's Hats at 40c. and upw'd.
Boys' Hats at 40c. and upw'd.
Men's Caps at 25c. and upw'd.
Boys' Caps at 25c. and upw'd.
A5 elegant assortment of Ladies' Hats at 75c. and up.

AND

ALL OTHER GOODS AT PRICES EQUALLY LOW.

COUNTRY PRODUCE TAKEN IN EXCHANGE FOR GOODS AT CASH PRICES.

DON'T FORGET

The People's Cheap Variety Store,

KEPT BY M. J. TEITELBAUM, LORETTO, PA.

The Body of A. T. Stewart Stolen.

Judge Hilton rushed into the police headquarters of New York on Thursday morning, greatly excited, and held a consultation with Inspector Dilks. He stated that the body of A. T. Stewart was missing from its resting place in the family vault in St. Mark's church yard, at Stuyvesant place and Second avenue. The vault, he said, had been broken open.—The casket was found in the vault, but he body was missing. Inspector Dilks at once sent out the following general order to all precincts:

"The remains of A. T. Stewart were last night stolen from the family vault in St. Mark's churchyard. The casket was found near by, broken, and the body removed. The mutilation of the remains is so offensive that they cannot be concealed. This is apparent from standing at the opening of the vault this morning, consequently it cannot be taken across the ferries without discovery. Close, diligent search to be made in your precincts, as the remains were evidently stolen in the hope of reward."

Nothing has been discovered of the whereabouts of A. T. Stewart's body, though the police have been very active in the search. It was learned on Thursday that the robbery of Mr. Stewart's tomb had been attempted a month before, and that the occurrence had been kept from the knowledge of the police. Early on the morning of October 7 it was discovered that the flagstone marking the vault had been removed, and that the earth beneath it had been dug up to a depth of several feet. It was evident that thieves had made an attempt to get at Mr. Stewart's body, but they had been prevented through their ignorance of the entrance. The flag stone was not over the entrance, as they supposed, but was situated several feet away. The occurrence was reported to Judge Hilton, and a consultation was had as to the best means of guarding the vault against grave robbers. The stone which marked the position of the vault was placed a few feet further to the south, and a watchman was engaged to patrol the street near the churchyard at night. This watchman was discharged a few days ago.

The police express the opinion that the robbery had required the combined efforts of several adroit and daring thieves. It needed at least three men to enter the vault and move the body. Another man was needed to take care of a horse and wagon and to be on hand when required. Two others doubtless guarded the entrance and kept a sharp look out for the approach of a policeman. The thieves must have known the exact spot under which the entrance to the tomb could be found, and this knowledge they probably gained by careful measurements. When all was ready they took advantage of a dark, stormy night, when few persons were on the streets, to enter the church yard and despoil the tomb.

Mrs. A. T. Stewart has offered a reward of $25,000 for the recovery of the body of her late husband, and the conviction of the robbers. A proportionate sum will be paid for the recovery of the body.

OUTLAWRY IN OHIO.—There was great excitement a few days ago throughout Darke county, Ohio, over a number of acts of violence recently committed upon several of the residents of that county. Some months ago a man named Grier was murdered beside his wife at Palestine by a band of Regulators. Afterwards a man named Quackenbush was ordered to leave, and did so. On the 8th of June last thirty men went to the house of Steve White, colored, and kidnapped his son William, whom they took to Winchester, where he was convicted of grand larceny and sentenced to one year in the penitentiary. He afterwards secured a new trial. At the same time the elder White received notice to leave the county. He subsequently received two similar orders, and not heeding them, was shot dead in his house by a large body of men who were mounted. The Grand Jury found true bills against John Archie, Jacob Bordie, William Shumate, Albert Dickey, Solomon Ferguson, Oliver Morgan and Robert Hart for kidnapping White. On Tuesday Marshal Shafer procured assistance and arrested the entire party. William Shumate is worth $60,000. Since the killing of White ten prominent citizens have received orders from the Regulators to leave the county under penalty of death. Mr. Putman, a colored lawyer, of Palestine received such notice, and, fearing his life to be in danger, immediately left.

—At Arba, Ind., one night recently, Nathan Overman fell out of bed and broke his neck, and at New Albany Julia Liffel dislocated her hip while bending to draw on her stocking. She was leaning against a trunk at the time.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

A GOLD MEDAL

has been awarded at the Paris Exhibition of 1878 to

CLARK'S

O. N. T.

Best SIX-CORD SPOOL COTTON. It was selected for being STRONG, ELASTIC and of UNIFORM STRENGTH. It has been awarded MEDALS at all the great Expositions from the first at Paris in 1855, to the Centennial at Philadelphia, in 1876. In this country CLARK'S O. N. T. SPOOL COTTON is widely known as a Close Lock Stitch Superior Excellence in Sewing and Hand Sewing. Their Mile & Nine Cord, just Put Up, Scotland are the largest and most complete in the world. The entire process of manufacture is conducted under the most complete and careful supervision, and they claim for their American made Cotton at least an equal merit to that produced in Paisley Mills, &c.

NO GRAND PRIZES were awarded at Paris for SPOOL Cotton, they are glad to announce to the American Public that they have been awarded a GOLD MEDAL, being the highest award given for Six Cord Spool Cotton.

GEORGE A. CLARK & BROTHER,

SOLE AGENTS,

400 Broadway, New York.

SWEET CAPORAL CUT NAVY Chewing Tobacco

G. F. WARDLE, Phila., Pa., General Agents.

BEFORE YOU START,

INSURE AGAINST ACCIDENTS.

Get an Accident Ticket or a Yearly Policy in the

TRAVELERS

At Local Agency or Railway Station.

$1300 profits on 10 days' investment of $100 in Western Union October 63d. Proportional returns every week on Stock Options. Send for circular. $25 to $1000. Address T. Potter Wright & Co., Bankers, 72 Wall St., N. Y.

$10 to $1000 Invest in Wall Street Stocks and make fortunes every month. Book free explaining everything. Address BAXTER & CO., Bankers, 17 Wall Street, New York.

$7 A DAY to Agents canvassing for the Fireside Visitor. Terms and Outfit free. Address P. O. VICKERY, Augusta, Maine.

25 Fancy Cards, with names, 10c. Post-paid. Agent's outfit, 10c. 150 styles. Hudson, N. Y.

Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

THE Scientific American

THIRTY-FOURTH YEAR.

THE MOST POPULAR SCIENTIFIC PAPER IN THE WORLD.

Only $3 20 a Year, including Postage. Weekly.

THE CAMBRIA FREEMAN.

Ebensburg, Pa.,

FRIDAY, - - - NOV. 15, 1878.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Here, There, and the Other Place.

—Yocum within seventy-four votes of beating Yocum, didn't you, Gov. Curtin?

—Dogs seem to be more valuable than sheep in this county. Ditto in Huntingdon county.

—Indian summer and a good deal of squawsy weather may be looked for about this time.

—Gov. Hartranft has seconded Mr. Hayes' motion for the giving of thanks on the 28th of the present month.

—More than 245 000 bottles of Sellers' Cough Syrup have been sold by the firm of John D. Park & Sons, Cincinnati.

—Well, the Democrats made a Speer-ited fight in this State, anyhow, and it is only a pity they haven't more to show for it.

—If you want to buy pure milk, unadulterated by either chalk or water, and that too at only five cents per quart, go to Belmont.

—The finishing touches have been given to the new stone wall in front of the jail, and it looks now as if it had been put there to stay.

—"Seek and you will find" a large stock, and a cheap stock of ready-made clothing for men and boys at Barkers, Ebensburg and Carrolltown.

—The best and cheapest stock of overshoes in town, comprising plain gum, wool alaska, buckle arctic, snow excluders, etc., can be found at Barkers.

—Ollie Lindsey is the name of a Hollidaysburg youth. Hope no one will ever have occasion to empnasize the last syllable of his Christian name.

—If any man or boy who reads this item is in need of a pair new boots, either leather or gum, he will find the largest and cheapest assortment at Barkers.

—The Congregational church in this place is at present undergoing a thorough renovation. A couple of young men from Pittsburgh have the work in hand.

—All retailers of merchandise in this county who have not yet paid their mercantile license will find it to their advantage to call on Treasurer Freidhoff and attend to the matter forthwith.

—Mr. David Ruth, formerly of Altoona, has recently been licensed to preach in Chester county, and Satan may now prepare for a little less assault upon his strongholds in that section of the State.

—Mr. James H. Benford, proprietor of the Hulbert House, Johnstown, is lying dangerously ill with disease of the kidneys and dropsy of the chest, and it is feared that he cannot long survive.

—Mr. James Morehouse, of Hollidaysburg, brother-in-law of our whilom citizen, Judge Devine, will, if life is spared him, celebrate his golden wedding and seventy-eighth birthday on Monday next.

—The Hollidaysburg Standard says that Cambria county elects the entire Democratic ticket. Survey the field again, "Boss" Traugh, and see if the County Surveyor isn't on the wrong side of the fence.

—Our venerable and worthy friend, Mr. Peter Kinney, of Jackson township, sold his fine farm, containing about one hundred acres, on Monday last, to Mr. Wm. Thomas, powwowing therefor for $3,000 in gold.

—The young woman named Dollie Lewis, a resident of Barre township, Huntingdon county, is said to have died very suddenly on Sunday night last, shortly after her return home from church. The presumption is that she took poison, and an investigation is demanded.

—At the next election there will only be three offices to be filled in this county—Sheriff, Poor House Director, and Jury Commissioner. The contest for the nomination for Sheriff, which is usually a warm one, promises from the present outlook to be fearfully and wonderfully exciting.

—Patrick Clark, an old resident of Woodvale, this county, fell while crossing the railroad track at that place, on Saturday last, in consequence of one of his feet becoming fastened in a "frog," and sustained injuries from which, owing to his advanced age, it is feared he cannot recover.

—Mr. Francis A. Back, of Carroll township, wishes to dispose of his valuable farm of 111 acres, with improvements, in said township, and also a large house and lot in Carrolltown, and is willing to accept any reasonable price that may be offered for either property. Advertisement next week.

—Samuel Crisman, one of the Democratic candidates for Commissioner in Bedford county at the late election, was defeated by one vote. We have no doubt that Mr. C. can now point to several districts in any one of which he could have made his election sure. "Eternal vigilance is the price of"—office.

—A large barn on the farm of Henry Yoder, in Stonycreek township, Somerset county, was burned to the ground on Saturday night last, and three head of cattle perished in the flames. A large quantity of grain and hay was also destroyed. The origin of the fire is unknown. Reported insurance, $600.

—A lad named Leonard, aged about twelve years, undertook a few days ago, for the first time in his life, to drive a team on the "raging canawl," but had not got far below Huntingdon when one of the mules planted a foot in his stomach and injured him so fatally that he died in less than twenty-four hours after.

—Monday last was "opinion" day in the Supreme Court at Pittsburgh, but the only opinion rendered on appeals from Judge Dean's rulings was one affirming his decision in the case of Fisher and wife vs. Cambria Iron Company, carried up from the Common Pleas of this county. Another "feather in the hat" of a just and able judge.

—While Thomas Joart, who resides near Evansville, Indiana county, was in attendance at prayer meeting with his family a few nights ago, his barn was set on fire, as is supposed, and burned to the ground. There were three horses in the barn at the time, only one of which were got out in time to save them from perishing in the flames.

—The new railroad schedule which went into effect on Monday makes a decided change in the departure of the evening train from this place. Instead of leaving here at 6.50, as heretofore, it tarries with us under the new dispensation until 7.35 p. m. In the morning and special trains, when the latter run, no change has been made.

—Mr. Thomas Elway, a prominent and well known merchant tailor of Altoona, died in that city on Monday morning last, in the 39th year of his age. He was one of the original founders of the First Methodist church of Altoona, all of whom, except the venerable John Shoemaker, Esq., have gone to "that bourne from whence no traveler returns."

—Mr. A. D. Criste, of Munster township, a gentleman who, unfortunately for himself, was foolish enough to believe that he could be elected County Treasurer on an independent basis, has, we regret to say, found it necessary to make an assignment for the benefit of his creditors. His brother, Mr. Joseph Criste, of Washington township, is the assignee.

—It may interest some of our marksmen to learn that a shooting match for a 630 yarker will take place in Dell Delight Grove, near Hollidaysburg, on Thanksgiving day. We will be Dell—Delighted to learn in due time that some Cambria sharp-shooter has won the prize, more especially if the information should be accompanied by a few yards of "sassingers."

—A resident of Greenfield township, Blair county, named Myers, now living with his second wife, is said to be the father of no less than twenty-five children, all of whom rise up and call him blessed, or vice versa. The fact that he resides at Sarah Furnace of course has nothing to do with the matter, though the same can't be said of the other twenty women in the case.

—The Johnstown Tribune is mistaken when it says that Judge Ryon has been elected to Congress from Schuylkill county, and that he is the same gentleman who was defeated for President Judge of that county some years ago by Hon. Cyrus L. Pershing. It is John W. Ryon, a brother of Judge Ryon, who was elected to Congress over Bruin the Greenback candidate.

—A water saw mill owned by Mr. John Jones, and located near Bethel, in Blacklick township, was, with a considerable quantity of logs and lumber, destroyed by fire one night last week. The origin of the fire is somewhat of a mystery, though the general presumption is that it was the work of an incendiary. The mill was insured for $600 in the Blair County Mutual.

—Rev. J. W. Thomas, of Barre township, Huntingdon county, was found lying dead on the road near his residence on Monday evening of last week, with a loaded gun by his side. There were no marks of violence on his person, and the presumption is that he died of apoplexy or heart disease. He was a sound and hearty man, and his death is a surprise to everybody.

—So far as we have observed in looking over our exchanges, the sheep law has been defeated in every county in which a vote was taken upon it, and yet it is not to be denied that a proper law on the subject ought to be passed for the protection of sheep against their wholesale destruction by worthless, midnight prowling dogs. Perhaps the coming Legislature will be equal to the task.

—Mr. Newton Lloyd, whose recent visit to the home of his childhood in this vicinity was noticed in the FREEMAN at the time, has just purchased a thousand acres of land near Bradford, Pa., for which he paid $25 an acre. The "Indian Fighter," as the Oil Times, from which we quote, terms Mr. Lloyd, is about to dispose of a portion of his purchase, at considerable of an advance we presume.

—A freight brakeman named J. C. Shaw had two of the fingers on his right hand so badly demoralized by being caught between the deadwood of two cars he was engaged in coupling at Cresson, on Monday night last, that he had to call on Dr. W. B. Lowman, Johnstown, and have the ends of both fingers amputated. The injured man resides in Uniontown, for which place he started the same evening.

—Rev. Thomas Davin, formerly curate at St. John's church, Johnstown, but more recently in charge of a congregation in Butler county, has, we understand, been appointed to fill the vacancy at Summitville, this county, caused by the recent death of Rev. Father Hackett. Father Davin is one of the most zealous and devoted priests in the diocese, and we are glad to welcome him back to Cambria.

—A young man named Moore, son of Mr. Johnston Moore, of Scotch valley, Blair county died very suddenly on Saturday last near Hollidaysburg, where he had been engaged in husking corn. Deceased was a mute, aged about 18 years, and enjoyed somewhat of a notoriety for having on one occasion attacked a she bear and killed it with an axe, and that too without sustaining any injury himself.

—Peter Goettman, of Altoona, had the two first fingers of his left hand shockingly lacerated by being caught in the machinery of the lathe which he was assisting to move in the erecting shop on Tuesday morning. So severe, indeed, were his injuries that one finger had to be amputated below the second joint and the other at the tip. Goettman a little shower is an advice which Peter will probably heed next time.

—The probabilities from present appearances are that the delectable region known as Bagtown, in Susquehanna township, will be very extensively represented in the usual way at the coming Quarter Sessions. One if not more of the charges brought against certain denizens of that vicinity is for the crime of adultery, the scene of which offense in this instance is laid in our own town during the last term of Court.

—The firm of Lemmon & Murray having ceased to exist owing to the death of the junior member, the surviving partner, Dr. Wm. Lemmon is anxious to close out certain departments of the business as speedily as possible, and therefore offers for sale a large lot of jewelry, miscellaneous books, notions, etc., at first cost, and in many instances at less than cost. Persons wishing to invest in articles of that kind will never have a better chance to secure bargains. [11-1.—If.]

—Joseph Blackstone, of Hollidaysburg, who evidently has no fear of the law as expounded by his celebrated namesake, attempted to carve his wife and step-son, a young man named Henry Ruffner, with a butcher knife the other day, but being foiled in his blood-letting proclivities, revenged himself by burning his discharge papers and threatening to lacerate his wind pipe with the same weapon which latter it would have been as well, perhaps, not to have disarmed him from doing.

—We scanned the official vote of Somerset county this (Thursday) morning, and the conclusion was very plain to us that no man more accurately described another than Wm. J. Baer, Esq., did Hon. A. H. Coffroth when he told the Congressional conference at Cresson that Gen. Coffroth was "a scientific politician." The Somerset returns prove beyond all manner of doubt that Coffroth is precisely what Mr. Baer termed him, with all that the words imply.

—Lament of ye disconsolate lovyer: "Oh! my darling has left the garden gate, she sits on the steps no more, and the old man swears if I go inside he'll boost me out of the door, because he says I never shall wed his daughter so comely and sweet, until I visit Woolf's clothing bazaar, Johnstown, and buy an outfit complete, as any one now can most certainly do, at a price that's exceedingly low, and select from a stock large and fine, such as no other man in the business can show." Store on Main street, Johnstown, Pa., next door to John Thomas'.

—The Johnstown Tribune and both of the Altoona daily papers, all of which could have received more reliable information from the FREEMAN, which was the first to publish the item, perversely insist on saying that our friend R. L. Johnston, Esq., fractured his lame leg above the knee, while the truth is that the fracture is below, or rather back, of the knee, all who knew Mr. Johnston being aware of the fact that his lame leg from the knee down "sticks out behind." The mishap was bad enough, but it would have been infinitely worse had the leg been broken above instead of below the knee.

—When Freedom from her mountain height unfurled her standard to the air, we know she did not think about Freedom's sons should wear; for if she had there's scarce a doubt these truthful words in living light would have appeared upon her flag, in letters plain and bright, "When, sons of mine, you wish to dress in clothing cheap and good, remember Geoffrey Wolff, undismayed has stood before the world and all mankind, prepared to do the best for all who need and erst would buy full suits, coat, pants or vest." Store on Twelfth street, next door to the post-office, Altoona, Pa.

—Put away the little torches that they carried in parade; hats and capes hang in the garret, politics once more is played. Meantime thoughts of coming winter, when snow and ice will reign, (yes, rain, too, sometimes,) should cause mankind to stop and ponder, as it is a fact quite plain that good, substantial clothing, such as Murphy keeps in stock, is what will soon be needed to withstand the winter's shock; and nowhere else we know of, at least there's none we now recall, where one can buy at lower prices than he'll find at Murphy's Clothing Hall, 109 Clinton street, Johnstown, Pa.

—Three times in succession and on as many different days last week, a man who gave his name as John Bowers and Bedford, Pa., as his place of residence, was taken up, as "bowers" generally are, in New York city, introduced to a magistrate, and fined ten dollars in each instance for getting drunk and acting as if he thought he was all the Bowers in the deck. On Thursday, the day he was first arrested, he paid his fine out of a wallet containing $2,000 in bills; on the second day the amount had dwindled down to $800, and on the third day it was found that he had only $200 in his possession. Verily, John proved a good trump for some of the city sharpers.

—T. H. Heist, proprietor of the Mountain House, in this place, has reduced his rates to parties attending Court. All persons, therefore, wishing good and comfortable accommodations will do well to give the Mountain House a trial. It is centrally and conveniently located, well furnished, all beds supplied with the best steel springs, and nearly every room in the house heated.—Give Mr. Heist a call and our word for it you will not leave his house dissatisfied. He also keeps at his bar none but the best and purest liquors, and is the only hotel-keeper in Ebensburg who sells the celebrated Berger and Eagle lager beers. A new ten-pin alley just added to the other attractions.

—S. M. Brophy, Esq., and Miss Nellie Carr, organist at St. John's Catholic church, Altoona, were married during Nuptial Mass in said church, about 7 o'clock on Monday morning last, by Rev. Father Sheedy. The happy bridegroom is a son of Mr. Timothy Brophy, a former resident of this place, and that fact alone will be sufficient to commend him to the kindly remembrance of most of our citizens. Apart from this, however, he is a genial gentleman and a prosperous young member of the legal fraternity, and being a man of good judgment we are sure he has made a wise selection in the choice of a wife. The newly-wedded have our sincere good wishes for a long life of pure enjoyment in this world and an eternity of happiness in the world to come.

—We have received a new double-column advertisement of Wanamaker & Brown's great clearance sale at their famous Oak Hall, Sixth and Market streets, Philadelphia, which will appear next week. Meanwhile we assure all our readers of the masculine persuasion that they can buy at Oak Hall the best made-up clothing ever offered in the advertising public, as we know from long experience, and that they can buy it now at lower prices than ever notwithstanding the figures put on their goods are always the most moderate. Call on R. H. Thompson, local agent for this great house, who can always be found at the Thompson store, and let him take your measure for a bran splinter new suit at a price which we are sure will astonish you with its cheapness.

—A large force of workmen was engaged all day Sunday in raising the iron bridge on the Pa. R. R. which spans the Conemaugh river immediately west of Johnstown, and with the aid of powerful hydraulic jacks succeeded in elevating the structure span by span just thirteen inches, and that too without disconnecting the spans at the piers or preventing the few trains running on that day from passing over in safety. The object of the "raise" was to remove the stringers and replace the rails on the cross-ties, as the civil engineers in the employ of the Company contending that by this method the bridge will be less liable to get out of repair, as there will be less danger of lateral motion and of swagging. The string timbers taken out are to be replaced by cross-sleepers of oak, and on these the rails are to be securely spiked.

—A poem commences "Under the willows he's lying." He must be a tramp. They lie under all sorts of trees. One was discovered the other morning lying under an axle tree. The owner of the wagon made him wheel wright around and leave.—Ex. The owner should have spoke-n gently to the fellow. He probably meant no harm by lying under the wagon, and very likely was tire-d.—Altoona Tribune. Not so much wagon of tongues, gentlemen, if you please. All this hub-bub about a simple poem don't amount to a linch pin. Spring a new subject, pool—no, pole—your issues, and talk sense for awhile by telling your readers that the best place and cheapest in Altoona, or elsewhere, to buy boots, shoes, gaiters, etc., for men women and children, as well as gum boots and overshoes, is at the renowned Great Eastern Boot and Shoe Store, 1119 Eleventh avenue, of which Mr. S. Blumenthal is the courteous and obliging proprietor.

—John Snodgrass, Esq., died suddenly of heart disease on yesterday week, at his residence near New Alexandria, Westmoreland county, in the 81st year of his age. Mr. S. was Superintendent of the old Portage Rail Road, in this county, for several years, commencing about 1842 or 1843, and kept his office at the foot of Plane No. 2, having for his clerk Thomas A. Maguire. He was not an educated man, but possessed a good deal of shrewdness and hard common sense. Through the patronage attached to his office he generally controlled the nominations of the Democratic party in this county, which was not so difficult a matter then as it is now, a county convention being quite a small affair when compared with one of the present day. The two factions of the party in this county were known as the Snodgrass and anti-Snodgrass parties, and a rich, rare and racy history of their political trickery, their plots and counter plots could be written. Mr. Snodgrass' administration of the affairs of the railroad may be said to have been satisfactory, and the citizens of this county who knew him entertain a pleasant and kindly remembrance of him. Peace to his ashes.

—Although M. S. Quay, Chairman of the Republican State Committee, knows a good deal, he is blissfully ignorant of how Welshmen vote; otherwise he would not, a short time before the election, have addressed a circular in the Welsh language to persons of that nationality, urging them to vote for the Republican State ticket. He sent one of them to the wrong man in this place, who mailed it to the Philadelphia Times, in which it afterwards appeared in the original Welsh dialect, with a translation into English. To send a circular to a Welsh voter asking him to support the Republican ticket is quite as stupid as taking coal to New Castle, or cabbage to Bavaria. Quay could have saved the price of the postage stamps on his circulars, and if he don't yet know the fact we will tell him, that, with the exception of only about one thousand "altogether lovely," a Welshman, as he has a right to do, always and under all circumstances, no matter where he may be, votes the Republican ticket, pure and simple, and regards it as a gross insult to have a circular addressed to him, even by so great a man as Quay, urging him to do what it almost seems a miracle for him to decline to do.

ARRESTED FOR RIOT, &c.—Eight young men named Daniel Mooney, Christ. Snyder, John Leap, Michael McMorris, Joseph Sanders, Alex. Sanders, Patrick Myers and Augustine Myers, were arrested at Lilly's station on Monday last for the second time, the warrant in the first instance having lapsed before they could be accorded a hearing, on the several charges of housebreaking, riot and malicious mischief, the first charge being correlative to and the other two based upon an alleged indignity committed on a widower named Maxwell, who is the father of eight children, and who recently took unto himself a wife in the person of a widow woman named Sheridan, the mother of five children, said indignity consisting, we are told, in laying violent hands on the new-married man and furnishing him with a free ride on the sharp edge of a fence rail, but just why it was done, unless through a spirit of maduleterated cussedness, we are not able to say. All the parties criminated were taken before Caron Lahey, Esq., for a hearing, when the two first named entered bail for their appearance at Court to answer, all the others expressing a willingness to take a little imprisonment in their'n. They were consequently brought to this place on Tuesday morning, but before the jail was reached they very wisely concluded not to enter therein, but instead appeared before Associate Judge Thomas, where all but Augustine Myers, who watched his chance and skipped out of town, entered into bonds to appear at December Court and stand a trial. Mr. Edward McGlade, who undertook to act as counsel for the accused before Esquire Lahey, was also required to enter into recognizance for his appearance at the same term of Court to answer for riotous conduct and intimidating an officer in the discharge of his lawful duty.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—From the current issue of the Hollidaysburg Standard we clip the following:

At noon on Saturday a terrible accident happened at Furnace No. 1, by which William Doyle, Daniel Lightner and James O'Brien were injured, the former very badly. Repairs have been going on at the furnace for some time, and at the moment of the accident workmen were engaged in hoisting to the furnace stack a heavy iron pipe or flue. At the moment the pipe was midway between the ground and its destination the rope attached to one of the windlasses broke, leaving the entire weight of the pipe hanging on the other windlass. The strain was too much for the men; they were thrown aside like chaff and the flue fell to the ground, the handle of the windlass revolving with lightning like rapidity. Mr. Doyle was then in a position that the revolving handle of the windlass struck him with a very revolution, and he was terribly injured. The extent of his injuries may thus be summed up: Right leg and left arm broken, the latter in two places; one of his thumbs torn off, the sinews torn from his right arm and left leg, besides serious laceration of the body, and cuts and bruises on the face and hands. Mr. Doyle is about twenty-three years of age and unmarried. Dr. Smith gave every attention, but it is scarcely possible that the unfortunate man can recover. The injuries of O'Brien and Lightner are not serious.

THE OFFICIAL VOTE FOR POOR DIRECTORS, SURVEYOR, AUDITORS, &C.—The following tables show the official returns in this county for the several candidates voted for at the recent election for the offices above named, as well as the vote cast for and against the Sheep Law, all of which want of time and space prevented us from giving in our last issue. It will be seen that we omit the vote for the Prohibition candidates, the ballots for whom were so few in number that they can scarcely be considered as an element in the count.

DISTRICTS.	P. H. Director. Patterson, Dem.	Elder, Rep.	Burgoon, G'b'k.	S'rveyr. Scanlan, Dem.	McConnell, G'b'k.
Adams Twp.	90	68	18	90	84
Allegheny Twp.	119	67	46	161	88
Blacklick Twp.	38	48	23	38	77
Barr Twp.	93	18	17	48	79
Cambria Bor., 1st ward	100	5	5	101	9
" 2d "	134	5	11	134	14
Cambria Twp.	41	161	4	43	156
Carroll Twp.	189	22	19	194	25
Carrolltown Bor.	83	7	6	87	9
Chest Twp.	55	9	26	59	31
Chest Springs Bor.	20	13	25	21	40
Clearfield	118	22	74	122	91
Conemaugh Twp.	22	31	2	21	34
" 1st ward	186	11	30	179	47
" 2d "	116	17	23	113	46
Coopersdale Bor.	8	27	14	9	38
Croyle Twp.	92	18	10	84	121
Dean Twp.	18	19	6	17	17
East Conemaugh	38	37	24	38	60
Ebensburg, E. ward	25	41	9	25	49
" W. "	83	66	2	83	56
Elder Twp.	90	4	3	87	11
Franklin Bor.	35	22	49	31	75
Gallitzin Twp.	13	47	7	22	43
Gallitzin Bor.	78	45	19	78	54
Jackson Twp.	49	85	19	49	89
Johnstown, 1st ward	73	188	52	48	144
" 2d "	49	108	19	33	140
" 3d "	91	56	9	81	73
" 4th "	97	60	46	63	110
" 5th "	68	75	54	60	134
" 6th "	53	85	46	50	132
Loretto Bor.	12	10	6	43	16
Millville, 1st ward	66	90	52	32	144
" 2d "	77	11	15	75	29
Munster Twp.	87	12	11	91	21
Portage Twp.	59	19	27	62	54
Prospect Bor.	38	8	1	36	10
Richland Twp.	55	92	10	67	98
Stonycreek Twp.	28	46	21	27	65
Summerhill Twp.	49	57	27	46	67
Summitville Bor.	6	3	2	19	3
Susquehanna Twp.	68	34	64	67	95
Taylor Twp.	37	62	37	37	99
Tunnelhill	26	..	7	25	9
Washington Twp.	157	19	11	152	22
White Twp.	49	143	8	49	151
Wilmore Bor.	19	18	19	16	46
Woodvale Bor.	16	4	23	16	94
Upper Yoder Twp.	50	39	33	28	75
Lower Yoder Twp.	30	28	28	30	54
Totals	3,229	2,234	1,144	3,124	3,298

DISTRICTS.	Auditors. Shelly, D.	Dillon, D.	Shaeman, R.	Rodgers, G.	Dimond, G.	S. L. For Stock Law	S. L. Ag. Stock Law
Adams	90	90	67	17	17	..	161
Allegheny	154	153	17	55	59	7	133
Blacklick	38	38	48	30	29	..	..
Barr	91	95	18	27	18	..	132
Cambria, 1st ward	100	104	5	5	5	..	..
Cambria, 2d ward	134	134	..	11	11	..	..
Cambria Twp.	45	48	159	53	3	2	144
Carroll	194	203	29	23	11	2	181
Carrolltown	86	93	5	10	3	11	32
Chest	58	58	10	22	25	2	77
Chest Springs	21	21	4	35	35	..	..
Clearfield	140	142	..	68	..	..	..
Conemaugh Twp.	22	22	30	2	2	18	13
Conemaugh 1st w'd	179	178	16	31	31	1	..
" 2d "	114	113	19	25	18	2	..
Coopersdale	8	8	27	14	14	10	2
Croyle	95	91	78	14	13	4	81
Dean	18	18	9	7	7	2	31
East Conemaugh	36	36	37	24	24	2	2
Ebensburg, E. W.	24	24	38	45	9	3	8
" W. "	82	77	36	27	2	7	16
Elder	90	98	3	7	1	..	93
Franklin	29	31	25	51	49	2	32
Gallitzin Twp.	22	23	27	15	16	31	32
Gallitzin Bor.	78	78	35	19	19	8	49
Jackson	50	55	83	45	19	12	76
Johnstown, 1st w'd	46	46	102	95	85	1	..
" 2d "	37	37	120	19	19	2	9
" 3d "	81	81	68	9	9	..	..
" 4th "	62	61	64	53	52	5	..
" 5th "	60	59	81	55	55	12	..
" 6th "	59	59	87	47	47	..	..
Loretto	6	6	6	6	6	18	19
Millville, 1st ward	35	35	91	52	51	3	..
" 2d "	77	78	11	15	15	..	..
Munster	74	83	10	13	34	..	4
Portage	99	87	15	16	15	9	62
Prospect	10	10	1	9	1	..	..
Richland	68	68	92	19	10	6	14
Stonycreek	27	27	47	21	21	13	47
Summerhill	52	45	39	22	51	1	81
Summitville	19	19	2	1	2	..	6
Susquehanna	68	68	34	64	62	7	69
Taylor	37	37	49	44	37	42	42
Tunnelhill	23	23	..	8	9	1	13
Washington	156	156	18	11	15	18	28
White	49	49	143	8	8	2	137
Wilmore	22	18	20	15	253	..	..
Woodvale	15	15	42	22	22	..	..
Upper Yoder	28	28	42	38	37	5	50
Lower Yoder	30	30	23	28	28	46	2
Totals	3278	3232	2144	1316	1161	3-8	1998

MR. S. TEITELBAUM, of Carrolltown, who will be accorded a hearing in his own name as soon as we can command the necessary time and space for his large advertisement, has this week added very extensively to his immense and elegant stock of goods, among the latest arrivals being a car load of extra pure salt, the price of which has been reduced to $1.90 per Ubl.; ten barrels carbon oil, reduced to 18c. per gal.; ten barrels extra C sugar, reduced to 8c. and 9c. per lb.; forty-eight new overcoats for men, at $4 50 and up; sixty suits of men's clothing, of all textures, at $3.50 and up; thirty-six stylish and handsome cloth coats for ladies, at $3 75 and up; ten cases men's and boys' boots, at $1 and up; ten cases women's shoes, gaiters and rubbers, at 40c. and up; together with a full line of goods in all other branches of the trade, every article of which will be sold at the very lowest prices. Remember, too, that he has reduced the price of all-wool flannel to 30c. per yard, white and brown canton flannels to 8 and 9c., jeans and cassieres to 20c., prints to 5 and 6c., bleached and brown muslins to prices ranging from 4 to 8c., ginghams to 6 and 9c., ticking to 10c., striped shirting to 9 and 10c., all-wool cashmere of every shade, to 40 and 50c., and all other goods in like proportion. Mr. T. says he only owns one store, and that he runs in the interest of the people as well as his own. He has won a large and liberal patronage by strictly adhering to the principle of fair and honorable dealing, and is determined to do the best that can be done for all who favor him with their custom.

CARROLLTOWN, Nov. 11, 1878.

BEAR FREEMAN—As old Carrolltown has not been heard from for some time in the way of a letter, I have concluded to step into the breach, knowing full well that there are at least a few who anxiously look for the same scanty news this community is able to furnish.

The political campaign is over at last, and things have once more assumed a quiet appearance. The smiling face and jolly "how d'ye do?" no longer meets our gaze or salutes our ears at every turn, indicating friendship and good will, for the time being at least, in the most expressive manner. Were it not that our experience in the ways that are human teaches us how efficient men is in deceitfully disguising his inward feelings, we could less doubtingly believe in such hearty greetings.

Although the patriotic old Democrats of northern Cambria would have been pleased to hear of A. H. Dill taking the gubernatorial chair, yet they still feel proud to find how well they, with their other Cambrian brethern, have acted their part in the good cause by electing the entire county ticket.

The bleak and drizzy weather, which adds a coating of ice to the pavements furnishes a source of amusements to the youngsters of our little town, by affording them the opportunity of standing, half frozen, on the street corners, and watching their elders minding their pedal extremities for fear of falling back on their dignities. MOLITOR.

THE return judges of the several counties composing the Seventeenth Congressional district delivered on Tuesday last to the Prothonotary of Blair county the following official vote for their respective counties:

	Coffroth.	Campbell.	Adams.
Bedford	3,363	3,048	180
Blair	3,389	3,769	925
Cambria	2,345	2,415	1,008
Somerset	2,504	2,935	141
Total	12,472	12,167	2,275
Coffroth's plurality	305

HYMENEAL.

EVANS—LEARN.—Married, at the residence of the bride's father, on Tuesday, Nov. 5, 1878, by Rev. Wishcopt, Dr. John Evans, formerly of this place, and Miss Mary R. Learn, of Cookport, Indiana county.

$500 Reward! $500 Reward!

$500 REWARD!

To any one who can show a larger, finer and cheaper stock of

CCCC L OOO TTTTT H H NN N GGG
C C L O O T H H H NN N N G G
C C L O O T H H H N N N G G
C L O O T HHHHH H N N N G
C C L O O T H H H N NN G GGG
CCCC LLLLL OOO T H H H N NN GGG

Gent's Furnishing Goods, &c.,

In Cambria County.

ALSO, $100 REWARD

In every case where we fail to do as advertised.

ECONOMY IS WEALTH!

And you can practice it no more effectually than by giving us a call. We wish consumers of goods in our line to know that we have

DECLARED A WAR OF EXTERMINATION AGAINST HIGH PRICES!

And shall continue to assault goods sold at big profits until we have overcome all competition.

OVERCOATS.

We have the largest and best stock of

OVERCOATS FOR MEN AND BOYS IN THE COUNTY!

AND OUR PRICES DEFY COMPETITION.

PLEASE DO NOT SPEND ONE CENT UNTIL YOU HAVE EXAMINED THE GOODS AND PRICES OF

L. M. WOOLF,

The Poor Man's Friend AND ONE PRICE CLOTHIER!

Main St., Johnstown, PA.

Men's and Boys' CLOTHING

THE CHEAPEST AND BEST,

AT CHAS. SIMON'S!

You can buy a Heavy Coat for $1
At 1307;
A Man's Wool Hat for 35c.
At Chas. Simon's;
A Man's Wool Home Made Shirt for 75c.
At 1307;
Heavy Overcoats, very cheap,
At Chas. Simon's;
Men's Hats, of the latest styles,
At 1307;
Heavy Warm Caps for Men, very cheap,
At Chas. Simon's;
Heavy Shirts and Drawers for 25c.
At 1307;
Ladies' Coats, the cheapest in the city,
At Chas. Simon's;
Blankets and Rugs, all colors,
At 1307;
If you want to keep as warm and snug as a bug in a rug, buy an Overcoat
At Chas. Simon's;
Ladies' Trimmed Hats, from 30c. up,
At 1307.
Young Men, if you contemplate matrimony, remember it will be a matter of money to you to buy your wedding garments
At Chas. Simon's.
Gent's White Dress Shirts for 40c.
At 1307;
Ladies' and Gent's Furnishing and Fancy Goods, the largest stock and the cheapest in the city,
At Chas. Simon's.
Overalls and Working Pants you can buy for a mere song, if you are a good singer, or a bad one,
At 1307.
If you want good, reliable Clothing and other Goods cheap, call on

CHAS. SIMON, 1307 Eleventh Ave.,

Between 13th and 14th Sts.,
OPPOSITE KESSLER'S DRUG STORE, Altoona, Pa.

ADJOURNED ASSIGNEE'S SALE.

BY virtue of an alias order of the Court of Common Pleas of Cambria county, to me directed, I will offer at public sale, at Bunn's Hall in Carrolltown borough,

On SATURDAY, November 23, 1878,

At 2 o'clock, p. m., the following described real estate, to wit:

ALL THAT PIECE OR PARCEL OF LAND

known as the Joseph Gantner Farm, situated in Carroll township, in said county of Cambria adjoining lands of James Bongrass, Sebastian Syberts Vitus Pfister, and others, containing nine hundred and fifty-two Acres, more or less, two-thirds of which are cleared, the balance being well covered with rail and other hard timber. This is one of the best located Farms in Carroll township, and has thereon erected a two story DOUBLE PLANK DWELLING HOUSE, containing six rooms, a BANK BARN, and all necessary Outbuildings. There is also a thriving Orchard and plenty of pure water on the premises, which are not only in a good state of cultivation and underlaid with coal, iron ore and fire clay, but are within a stone's throw of a steam saw mill and a public school house, and not more than two miles from Carrolltown borough. This is indeed a splendid chance for investment.

TERMS OF SALE.—One-third of the purchase money to be paid on confirmation of sale, one-third in one year and the balance in two years from the confirmation of sale—deferred payments to bear interest and be secured by the bond and mortgage of the purchaser.

THOMAS EGER,
Oct. 30, 1878. Assignee of Joseph Gantner.

Dry Goods!

FANCY GOODS,

Millinery Goods,

Ladies' Coats,

CARPETS, &C.,

NOW ON EXHIBITION!

THE LARGEST STOCK

And Cheapest

In the CITY of ALTOONA!

—AT—

C. SIMON & CO.'S
C. SIMON & CO.'S
C. SIMON & CO.'S
C. SIMON & CO.'S
C. SIMON & CO.'S
C. SIMON & CO.'S
C. SIMON & CO.'S
C. SIMON & CO.'S
C. SIMON & CO.'S

HOLIDAY GOODS!

THE LARGEST AND CHEAPEST STOCK IN THE STATE.

500 Hats and Blankets at a Sacrifice, from 50c. up.

200 LADIES' COATS..... Prices $2.50 up to the finest.
75 doz.

How a Spider Captured a Potato Beetle.

I wish to place on record with you an incident which came under my observation, and which almost equals the account of a spider raising a snake in its web, which you published some time ago. I was sitting on my back porch one day this summer, when I observed a potato bug slowly approaching along the floor. Anxious to annihilate as many as possible of these pests, I kept my eye on him until he should come within reach, when I could put my foot on him. While watching in this way I noticed a pretty good sized spider approaching the bug. At a little distance he stopped to survey his contemplated victim, and then, with a mind seemingly determined as to what course to pursue, ran around on the opposite side of the bug, and with an apparent 'nip' at him turned the bug from his course, and toward a corner where I noticed the spider had a web some four or more inches from the floor. The bug had no inclination to go in that direction, but he was so closely driven by the spider, which ran first to one side then the other, exactly like a shepherd dog driving sheep, hurrying his victim up with an occasional 'nip' or bite at his side. All this was something new to me in the habits and ways of the spider, and I watched with intense interest to see what the result would be.

When the bug had been driven into the corner at a point directly under the web, the spider changed tactics, and made a series of circles rapidly around the bug, first in one direction and then in another, occasionally taking a run up into the web. While I was unable to see the delicate thread spun by the spider, I saw that the bug's legs soon became so entangled that he could not make any headway, but could only struggle around in a limited latitude, which became more and more limited as the spider untiringly continued his work. Being compelled to leave at this moment, I returned again in about half an hour. I then found the bug turned on its back, and its feet apparently quite firmly bound. He was quite motionless, and I thought he was dead, but he soon showed signs of life by vigorously kicking, which nearly released him.

The spider had been running up and down at different points, but quickly left that work, and sliding down to the bug, seemed to attack his throat, and in such a manner that the bug gave a few spasmodic kicks and seemed to give up the ghost. The spider then returned to his work of attaching lines to the bug and the web. They were soon so numerous that I could see them; besides, the light had become more favorable. The regularity of the lines formed a sort of funnel, diverging as they did from the bug to the outer parts of the web above.

After a time the spider seemed to have lines enough attached, and began the new work of shortening each line, as it appeared. He passed from line to line many times over, stopping an instant at each. I was again called away at this juncture, and did not see the curiosity until the next day. The bug was then elevated over an inch above the floor, and the third day he was safely in the center of the web, some five inches from the floor, and all the tackle employed in hoisting was completely cleared away. In the web were the carcasses of two other potato bugs, which I have no doubt were caught in like manner, though they may have crawled up the wall into the web. I cannot name the variety of the spider, but it is a very common one, of rather good size taken altogether, but small as compared with the bug. The spider could not have weighed one-eighth as much as the bug; his body was long and slender, with long, slender legs, a very ordinary species of house spider, (of brown color,) and called a large spider on account of his long legs.

This may be a very common habit of the spider, running out and driving in game to a place where it can be secured and hoisted, but I never heard of the like before.—R. B. Tweller, in Scientific American.

SPLITTING LOGS WITH POWDER.—Where circular saws are in use, not of sufficient diameter to divide large trunks, it is asserted that trees partly sawn through may be neatly split even without any sawing. If a hole be bored in the wood of one inch diameter, and in depth a little more than half the thickness of the trunk, about one-third the length of the log from the butt end, and as near as possible to the center, powder and fuse put in, and the hole filled up with sand, a single blast is sufficient to split a log of considerable length, which it does generally, almost as clean as the saw.—Beech and ash have been successfully experimented upon, but with oak and some other timbers it is not so successful.

APPLES IN SAND.—A writer in the London Garden says that he finds fruit to keep best in perfectly dry sand. He keeps fruit in this way all the year round. He has had French crabs two years old. The Catillac pear has remained sound twelve months. The fruit must be sound when stored, and the sand must be quite dry. The chief advantages of packing in sand are, the exclusion of air currents, the preservation from changes of temperature, and the absorption of moisture, which favors decay. Much will depend on the apartment in which the experiment is tried, a dry or cool one being best.

It is said that a bag of hops, as large as the two fists placed in a grain bin, will kill or drive away every grub or weevil in the bin.

UP WITH THE FLAG

FALL SEASON, 1878.

Hurrah for another Large Business!

There is nothing dingy or forbidding about OAK HALL this Fall. The personal attention of Mr. Wanamaker has brightened up everything about the place, and the Fall buyers with a

GRAND SEND-OFF!

$700,000 in Clothing and Cloths is under the broad roof, and

The Stir about the Place shows that the people have discovered that

Oak Hall is "Home," and that, after all, it is best to

"Stick to Old Friends."

The fact is, we have outstripped every former effort, and put forward, this season,

BETTER STOCK,
BETTER CUT,
BETTER MADE.

We rely on our TRUE and TRIED GOODS at TRUSTWORTHY PRICES, and, on the basis of low prices, good goods, and thorough satisfaction to our customers, propose to do a larger business than ever.

WANAMAKER & BROWN,
OAK HALL,
S. E. Cor. Sixth and Market Sts.,
—PHILADELPHIA.—

P. S.—Most of our old Salesmen will be found on our floors.

THE BEST OFFER EVER MADE.

HOW A $65 GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINE CAN BE EARNED IN A DAY.

There is no reason why any family visited by the CAMBRIA FREEMAN should be without a first-class A No. 1 Sewing Machine.

We have made arrangements whereby we are enabled to offer for the next sixty days a genuine GROVER & BAKER Improved SEWING MACHINE to any person who will send us the names of 20 New Subscribers to our paper for one year, at $2.00 each, or 35 New Subscribers at $1.75 each, cash in advance. Or, if any old or new subscriber prefers it, we will furnish one of the Machines and send the FREEMAN one year for $15.00 cash, beyond which there will be no expense except the freight from New York.

This is the same Machine that is sold through dealers and listed at $65 each. It is furnished complete in every particular, with polished Black Walnut Table and Box Cover, which locks down, and the iron work is elaborately finished in black and gold. It makes the strong and neat Elastic Stitch, is almost noiseless, does its work easily, rapidly and with beautiful finish, and readily produces the most elaborate Embroidery. For sewing loose, yielding, or knit goods, it has no equal. It takes the thread direct from the spools, thereby saving the tedious winding of bobbins. It is made of the best material, in the best manner, by skilled mechanics, is elegantly finished, and has always held the high and distinguished place ever accorded to true worth and merit.

WE CANNOT PROMISE THE MACHINE AFTER 60 DAYS FROM THE DATE OF THIS PAPER.

☞ Every Machine is in perfect running order, and will be carefully boxed and sent direct from New York, either by express or freight (as may be desired) to all persons who comply with the above conditions. Each Machine is mounted on patent casters, for which nearly all other companies charge extra, and furnished FREE, with one dozen needles (assorted sizes), one oil-can, one screw-driver, one needle-gauge, and a book of full and complete instructions, explicit enough for a child to understand.

By simply writing a few notes to your friends at a distance, and by spending a day soliciting subscriptions for the FREEMAN, tho twenty or thirty five names, with the money, can be secured without any outlay of cash, and with the smallest possible amount of labor.

NO OTHER PAPER IN THE STATE HAS EVER MADE SUCH AN OFFER.

P. S.—Next week we will print a "cut" showing the Machine with the box cover on.

The GREAT FAVOR

—WITH WHICH—

THE PEOPLE HAVE RECEIVED

—OUR EFFORTS TO—

ESTABLISH ON EQUITABLE PRINCIPLES

—THE—

GRAND DEPOT

DRY GOODS & OUTFITTING HOUSE

HAS STIMULATED US TO MAKE NEW IMPROVEMENTS THROUGHOUT THE HOUSE. WE INVITE THE PEOPLE OF THIS SECTION TO VISIT US, AND SEE HOW EASY, PLEASANT AND SAFE IT IS TO DO THEIR BUYING AT 13TH & MARKET, PHILA.

John Wanamaker.

GEIS, FOSTER & QUINN,

113 and 115 Clinton Street, Johnstown,

ALWAYS HAVE THE

LARGEST AND CHEAPEST STOCK OF

DRY GOODS, NOTIONS, MILINERY, CARPETS, ETC.,

TO BE FOUND IN CAMBRIA COUNTY.

☞Don't Forget the Street and Numbers.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

CURE FOR LOCK JAW IN HORSES.—A writer in the Wilmington Republican suggests the following as a sure cure for lock jaw: "There is a large number of horses dying from lock jaw. I would suggest the following treatment, which will in eight cases out of ten save the life of the horse. If the wound is from a nail in the foot enlarge the wound and apply spirits of turpentine. Then apply laudanum every hour for two days; at the same time bathe the foot twice a day, for the lock jaw generally sets in from ten to twenty days after the wound has been made. The horse should not be used.

THE use of chloride of potassium is recommended in Germany as a means of increasing the growth of wool in sheep. The fact of the "yelk" of sheep containing a large proportion of this chemical led some German chemist to make experiments with a view of proving whether the supply of this material would promote the growth of wool, and this result has proved that by administering chloride of potassium in the proportion of one part of chloride to nine parts of salt, the production of wool may be increased and its quality improved, while the general health of the animal is at the same time benefitted. Experiments are being made in order to ascertain the proper quantities to administer.—Prairie Farmer.

CURE FOR BLIND STAGGERS.—Take three tablespoonfuls of Jamestown weed seed, put them in a pint of clear water, and boil them until you make a strong tea; then strain the tea in order to get all the seed out. Mix with this tea one ounce of the spirits of nitre and one ounce of paregoric—or three pods of pepper will answer. This compound forms a liniment, of which take one teaspoonful and pour in each ear. Let the horse rest about fifteen minutes, then take a half pint of assafœtida tea, one ounce of hartshorn, and one tablespoonful of ground mustard. This you may squirt up each nostril until he begins to snort freely, and then you may stop, as the water collected around the brain will run out at the ears and nose.

TO CLEAN BLACK SILK.—One of the things not "generally known," at least in this country, is the Persian method of cleaning black silk. The modus operandi is very simple, and the result infinitely superior to that achieved in any other manner. The silk must be thoroughly brushed and wiped with a cloth, then laid flat on a board or table and sponge well with hot coffee, freed from sediment by being strained through muslin. The silk is sponged on the side intended to show, it is allowed to become partially dry and then iron on the wrong side. The coffee removes every particle of grease and restores the brilliancy to the silk without imparting to it either the shiny appearance or crackly and papery stiffness obtained by beer, or indeed any other liquid. The silk really appears thickened by the process and this good effect is permanent. Our readers who will experimentalize on an apron or cravat will never again try any other method.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Detroit Post and Tribune gives his experience with black teeth in hogs. He says: "Two years ago last winter I had a nice shoat. It had black teeth. I asked some of my neighbors what to do for it; they told me to knock them out with a hammer and it would get well. I did so and I am sure I got them all out. The hog kept getting worse and died. About the time it died I saw a piece in the Clam Lake newspaper about black teeth in hogs. It said black teeth were not a disease, but simply an indication that the hogs were not in a healthy condition. It gave a recipe, which was: One ounce fine gunpowder for each hog per day; mix well with the food; keep giving until their appearence is for the better. At the time I lost my hog I was keeping two hogs over the winter for a neighbor. Both of his hogs had had black teeth. One of them I took the black teeth out of and the other I did not. I gave the powder for three days and both got well. Good food, clean pen, and room for exercise are essential."

COLLINS, JOHNSTON & Co.

BANKERS,

EBENSBURG, PA.

MONEY RECEIVED ON DEPOSIT,

PAYABLE ON DEMAND.

INTEREST ALLOWED ON TIME DEPOSITS.

MONEY LOANED, COLLECTIONS MADE,

AND A GENERAL

BANKING BUSINESS TRANSACTED.

☞Special attention paid to business of correspondents. A. W. BUCK,
Nov. 19, 1875.-tf. Cashier.

FARMS AT PRIVATE SALE.—The undersigned offers at private sale the following properties, to wit: A tract of land in Snyder township, Blair county, 1¼ miles from East Tyrone, containing 188 acres, well improved, having thereon all the necessary farm buildings. This farm will be divided into two or three parts, if desired by purchasers, and if not sold before the the first of March next, it will then be rented.

Also, the farm on which I now reside, in Logan township, 3½ miles from Altoona. This property is in a high state of cultivation and has a splendid house, barn and other buildings thereon erected.

Also, a tract of improved land situated partly in Blair and Cambria counties, containing 278 acres. This tract is underlaid with coal of excellent quality, well covered with timber, and has a railroad built to it, ready for shipping coal.

These lands will be sold as a whole or divided, and on terms to suit purchasers, or will exchange for Altoona city property. For further information call on or address WM. DECKER.
Nov. 23, 1877.-1y. Box 869, Altoona.

WM. H. SECHLER, Attorney at Law, Ebensburg, Pa. Office in Colonade Row, (recently occupied by Wm. Kittell, Esq.,) Centre Street. [1-21.'76.-tf.]

ESTABLISHED FOR THIRTY-THREE YEARS.

F. W. HAY & SON

Manufacturers,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

—OF—

TIN, COPPER,

—AND—

Sheet Iron Wares

AND DEALERS IN

HEATING, PARLOR and COOKING

STOVES,

Sheet Metals,

—AND—

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS GENERALLY.

Jobbing in

TIN, COPPER & SHEET-IRON

PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.

Nos. 278, 280 and 282 Washington St.,

JOHNSTOWN, PA.

HUNT'S REMEDY

The Great Kidney Medicine is not a new compound; it has been before the public 8 years and used by all classes. HUNT'S REMEDY has saved from lingering disease and death hundreds who have been given up by Physicians to die. HUNT'S REMEDY cures all Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, and Urinary Organs, Dropsy, Gravel, Diabetes, and Incontinence and Retention of Urine. HUNT'S REMEDY encourages sleep, creates an appetite, braces up the system, and renewed health is the result. HUNT'S REMEDY cures Pain in the Side, Back, or Loins, General Debility, Female Diseases, Disturbed Sleep, Loss of Appetite, Bright's Disease of the Kidneys and all Complaints of the Uriao-Genital Organs. HUNT'S REMEDY is purely vegetable, and meets a want never before furnished to the public, and the utmost reliance may be placed in it. HUNT'S REMEDY is prepared EXPRESSLY for the above diseases, and has never been known to fail.

One trial will convince you.

Send for pamphlet to

WM. B. CLARKE, PROVIDENCE, R. I.

HUNT'S REMEDY

August 9, 1878-1y.

CARL RIVINIUS,

Practical Watchmaker and Jeweler,

One Door West of Huntley's Hardware Store,

EBENSBURG, PA.,

HAS always on hand a large, varied and elegant assortment of WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY, SPECTACLES, EYE-GLASSES, &c., which he offers for sale at lower prices than any other dealer in the county. Persons needing anything in his line will do well to give him a call before purchasing elsewhere.

☞Prompt attention paid to repairing Clocks, Watches, Jewelry, &c., and satisfaction guaranteed in both work and price.

LEATHER

—AND—

RUBBER BELTING

RUBBER HOSE: RUBBER PLUMBAGO, ASBESTOS, ITALIAN AND HEMP PACKING; LACE LEATHER, ENGINE OILS,

And Mill Supplies Generally.

WAREHOUSE and OFFICE,

No. 108 Water Street, Pittsburgh,

THORP & CO.

March 22, 1878.-1y.

PARKE'S MARBLE WORKS,

139 Franklin Street, Johnstown.

MONUMENTS, HEAD and TOMB-STONES, COUNTER and CABINET SLABS, MANTELS, &c., manufactured of the very best Italian and American Marbles. Entire satisfaction guaranteed in price, design and character of work.

☞ Orders respectfully solicited and promptly filled at the very lowest cash rates. Try me.
April 24, 1873.-tf. JOHN PARKE.

Ebensburg INSURANCE AGENCY.

T. W. DICK,

General Insurance Agent,

EBENSBURG, PA.

Policies written at short notice in the

OLD RELIABLE "ÆTNA"

And other First Class Companies.

Ebensburg, Sept. 22, 1877 -1y.*

Essential Oils.

WINTERGREEN, PEPPERMINT, PENNYROYAL, SPEARMINT, &c., of prime quality, bought in any quantity for cash on delivery, free of bokerage, commission, storage, etc., by

DODGE & OLCOTT,

Importers and Exporters, 88 William St., N. Y.

DR. M. J. BUCK,

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,

ALTOONA, PA.

Office at 1318 Eleventh avenue, between 13th and 14th streets, where night calls can be made. Office hours from 8 to 10, A. M., and from 2 to 4 and 6 to 8, P. M. Special attention paid to Diseases of the Eye and Ear, as well as to Surgical Operations of every description. [4-19.-tf.]

F. A. SHOEMAKER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Ebensburg. Office on High street, east end of residence. [1 24,'76 -tf.]

GEO. M. READE, Attorney-at-Law, Ebensburg, Pa. Office on Centre street, three doors from High street. [8-27,'78.]

VIGORENE

THE GREAT POSITIVE CURE

for all DISEASES arising from a Corrupted condition of the BLOOD, LIVER, NERVES, or DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

The Best Family Medicine on Earth.

$100 IN GOLD

to any person afflicted with a disease that VIGORENE will not relieve or cure, providing the bones or organs are not wasted beyond point of repair.

VIGORENE

is scientifically compounded from Herbs, Roots, Barks and Gums found in California and the West Indies, combining a Tonic, Cathartic, Alterative, Diuretic and Sudorific.

Its immediate effect upon the digestive organs, whether impaired by disease or exhausted from any cause, is to increase their powers of assimilation and nutrition. It increases the appetite, assists digestion, and gives firmness and tone to the muscular and circulating system. It stimulates the vital processes to renewed activity, alters, corrects and purifies the fluids, tones the organs and re-establishes their healthy functions.

THE ONLY TRUE REMEDY FOR COLDS.

It is useless to expatiate upon the virtues of this GREAT REMEDY. If you are suffering from BILIOUS ATTACKS, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, GENERAL DEBILITY, CONSTIPATION, KIDNEY or NERVOUS DISEASES, or any disorder arising from IMPURE BLOOD, get a bottle of VIGORENE and take it as per directions upon each bottle, in English, German, Spanish and French. One bottle will better convince you of its merits than volumes expressed in printers' ink.

A trial of one bottle insures its adoption in every family, for no Man, Woman or Child can take VIGORENE and remain long sick. It first cleanses the system, then repairs, then builds up, thus curing disease and establishing health on a permanent, safe and enduring basis.

Put up in large bottles, and is pleasant to take.

Sold by Druggists Generally. Price, $1.00 per Bottle.

Walker & Badger Mfg. Co., Prop'rs, 40 John Street, New York.

VIGORENE

☞For sale by Lemmon & Murray, Ebensburg, who are authorized to guarantee VIGORENE to prove as represented. [10-11,'78.-1y.]

"CANDEE"

PURE GUM

RUBBER BOOTS

Being free from adulterative mixtures, will give longer service than common Rubber Boots.

Their great popularity has led to many cheap imitations, having a DULL FINISH, but this season the "CANDEE" CO.

WILL

VARNISH

Their PURE GUM BOOTS, and to distinguish them from the common kind, will attach a RUBBER LABEL on the front of the leg, bearing the inscription

CUSTOM MADE.
PURE GUM.

These Boots have the Patent Metal Heel Plate, which prevents the heel wearing away so quickly, and they will have also the patent

Outside Stationary Strap

Instead of the very inconvenient web inside Strap, used on other makes of Boots.

ASK FOR THE

"CANDEE" BOOT.

TEETH

EXTRACTED POSITIVELY WITHOUT PAIN!

—BY—

DR. QUINCY A. SCOTT,

278 Penn Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Many others claim that they extract painlessly and often fail, but Dr. Quincy A. Scott is always successful, and his own absolutely safe anæsthetic is as harmless as water and can be safely taken by old and young, and people in every condition of health.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

It will pay those who fear pain to visit Dr. Scott, if only to get their teeth out, and those who want artificial teeth can get the finest in the world, equaling his specimens which took the Centennial Medal and Diploma, at the lowest possible prices for first-class work. The Doctor also makes a specialty of painless filling, and his new patent "White Gold" filling equals pure gold and costs less than half as much.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.

GRAY'S SPECIFIC MEDICINE,

TRADE MARK. Is especially recommended as an unfailing cure for SEMINAL WEAKNESS, SPERMATORRHŒA, IMPOTENCY, and all diseases that follow as a sequence on Self Abuse—as TRADE MARK.

Before Taking.

After Taking.

LOSS of MEMORY, UNIVERSAL LASSITUDE, PAIN IN BACK, DIMNESS OF VISION, PREMATURE OLD AGE, and many other diseases that lead to Insanity, Consumption and a Premature Grave, all of which as a rule are first caused by deviating from the path of nature and over indulgence. The Specific Medicine is the result of life study and many years of experience in treating these special diseases.

Full particulars in our pamphlets, which we desire to send free by mail to every one.

The Specific Medicine is sold by all Druggists at $1 per package, or six packages for $5; or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money by addressing THE GRAY MEDICINE CO.,

No. 10 Mechanics' Block, DETROIT, MICH.

☞Sold in Ebensburg by C. T. ROBERTS, and by Druggists everywhere.

HARRIS & EWING, Wholesale Agents, Pittsburg, Pa. [8-16.-1y.]

HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.

Health and Happiness are priceless Wealth to their possessors, and yet they are within the reach of every one who will use

WRIGHT'S LIVER PILLS!

The only sure CURE for Torpid Liver, Dyspepsia, Headache, our tomach, Constipation, Debility, Nausea, and al Billious complaints and Blood disorders. None genuine unless signed "Wm. Wright, Phila." If your Druggist will not supply send 25 cents for one box to BARRICK, ROLLINS & Co., 70 N. 4th St., Phila [1-4,'78.-1y.]

A. M. KEIM, M. D., PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON, Ebensburg, Pa. Office recently occupied by Dr. J. J. Oatman, two doors west of Blair House, High st., where night calls can be made. Consultations in German as well as English. [9-5,'77. tf.]

JOHN MURPHY, M D.,

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,

TUNNEL HILL BOROUGH,

Cambria county, Pa. Night calls can be made at the residence of Jas. P. Murray. [9-27.-tf.-6m*.]

An Interesting Theory Developed by Wild Geese.

The Virginia City Enterprise says: "About four years ago a farmer of Surprise Valley found in the crop of a wild goose a small quantity of grain, the like of which he had never before seen. He planted this, and it grew, producing more than a hundred fold. The straw and beardless head are said to resemble wheat, while the grain looks like rye, but is twice as large. The farmer has now many bushels of this cereal, and has sent samples of it to be planted in various places in California. An old sailor of Virginia City, after reading an item which has been going the rounds of the papers in regard to the new cereal, finds his memory refreshed. It brings to his recollection a circumstance he had almost forgotten. He has thought it out, and is now firmly of the opinion that there is an inhabitable land at the North Pole. The old man says he was one of the crew of the Investigator, Captain McClure, which sailed from England in 1850, in company with the Enterprise, Commander Collinson, in search of Sir John Franklin, and he certainly has in his possession one of the Arctic medals given by the English Admiralty to all persons engaged in these Polar expeditions from 1718 to 1855. In September of that year the Investigator reached a land which Captain McClure named Baring's Land, and three days after other land, which he named after Prince Albert, where, about the last of the month, they were frozen in.

While in the last land named, the explorers observed many wild geese and other water fowl flying southward. Some of the geese stopped at this place where the ship lay, and several were killed by members of the crew. In the crops of some of these geese he recollects to have seen a considerable quantity of a grain such as the new cereal of Surprise Valley is said to be. As no such grain is known in the temperate zone, and as we have no account of a grain of the kind being found in any known region of the world, he is of opinion that the geese obtained it in a region lying about the open polar sea.

He says no man has yet gone so far north but he has found wild geese and other water fowl flying farther to the northward. As the geese are undoubtedly wending their way to a well known stopping place far to the north, there must be something for them to feed upon at the point where they stop. As wild geese live no more on fish than do tame ones, there must be in the country to which they go grass and other vegetation similar to that found in temperate regions. The wild geese that halt on the Pacific coast make the grain fields their feeding place, and it is not likely that in the land about the pole their nature is so changed that they live upon moss es or fish.

A WESTERN WONDER.—The greatest wonder in the State of Iowa, or perhaps any other State, is what is called the "Wailed Lake," in Wright county, twelve miles north of the Dubuque and Pacific Railway, and one hundred and fifty miles west of Dubuque city. The lake is from two to three feet higher than the earth's surface. In some places the wall is ten feet high; width at bottom fifteen feet and at the top five. Another fact the size of the stones used in construction the whole of them varying in weight from three tons down to one hundred pounds. There is an abundance of stones in Weight county; but surrounding the lake to the extent of five or ten miles, there are none. No one can form an idea as to the means employed to bring them to the spot who constructed it, around the entire lake is a belt of woodland half a mile in width, composed of oak; with the exception the country is a rolling prairie. The trees must have been planted there at the time of building of the walls. In the spring of 1856 there was a great storm, and the ice on the lake broke the wall in several places and the farmers in the vicinity were obliged to repair the damages to prevent inundation. The lake occupies a ground surface of two thousand eight hundred acres; depth of water as great as twenty-five feet. The water is clear and cold; soil sandy and loamy. It is singular that no one has been able to ascertain where the water comes from or where it goes, yet it is always clear and fresh.

A WONDERFUL SPRING.—Silver Springs, Florida, is one of the greatest curiosities of the south. It bubbles up in a basin nearly 100 feet deep and about an acre in extent, sending from it a deep stream 60 to 100 feet wide and extending six to eight miles to the Oclwha river. In the spring itself sixty boats may lie at anchor, quite a fleet. The spring thus forms a natural inward port, to which three steamers run regularly from the St. John's, making close connection with the ocean steamers at Pilatka. The clearness of the water is truly wonderful. It seems even more transparent than air. You see the bottom 80 feet below the bottom of your boat, the exact form of the smallest pebble, the outline and color of the leaf that has sunk, and all the prismatic colors of the rainbow are reflected. Large fish swim in it, every scale visible and every movement distinctly seen. If you go over the spring in a boat, you will see the fissures in the rock from which the river rushes upward like an inverted cataract.

A CURE FOR WARTS.—Oil of cinnamon dropped on warts three or four times a day will cause them disappear, however hard, large or numerous they may be. The application gives no pain nor causes suppuration.